SENATORS EVEN UP

HARRIS' CREW BEAT GIANTS

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Coming back with a load of dynamite the Washington Senators blew up the New York Giants and won the fourth game of the world's series here this afternoon by a score of 7 to 4.

Before a crowd that approached yesterday's record of 50,000 the Senators mopped up on the Giants and batted three pitchers out of the box.

From the third inning on when Goslin hit a homer with two on, the Senators were in command. They were threatened in the eighth and ninth innings by a dying Giant rally and they had to call on Fred Marberry, the champion relief pitcher of baseball. Marberry, who has appeared in three games of the series, was rushed in again, and he delivered, as he has delivered all season.

Mogridge Fools Champions.

George Mogridge, the loosely hung Washington southpaw, had the Giants completely fooled with a wide sweeping curve until the eighth inning. He had held the National league champions to three hits when he lost control in the eighth inning. He passed Young and Meusel after getting Kelly on a long fly. With two men on and one down Marberry was called to face Wilson and stop the rally. Wilson doubled to right and scored Young. Meusel tried for the plate when Rice juggled the ball the ball but he was cut down trying to score by a beautiful relay Rice to Harris to Ruel Marberry got Jackson for thethird out on an easy chance.

In the ninth Hank Gowdy singled and got around to third on a freak play. Rice's throw to first hit Gowdy's leg and the ball rolled to the stands, allowing Hank to hobble around to third.

Young Lindstrom who had singled three times in four times up scored Gowdy with a linedrive too hot for Harris to handle. Frisch walked and the Senators gathered around Marberry but he waved them away. Young forced Frisch at second on a close play and Lindstrom went to third. The hard hitting Kelly then came up and fanned in the pinch for the third out.

The Senators, after Goose Goslin had given them a two run lead with his home run, worked on Barnes in the fifth inning for two more runs. McNeely singled and dashed to third on Harris' single McNeely scored and Harris went to second on a wild pitch by Barnes. Goslin then came up and knocked in Harris with a single. Singles by Goslin and Judge and an error by Meusel in left field gave the Senators two more runs in the eighth inning.

Senators Have The Fire.

The Washington club that looked so dull yesterday behind terrible pitching, had a new life and dash today even with Peck, their star shortstop, out of the game. Bucky Harris with two sensational stops and throws saved Mogridge in the seventh inning when the tall southpaw was threatened for the first time Thruout the game the work of the Washington manager at second was almost as brilliant as Frisch's marvelous exhibition in yesterday's game.

The Giant pitchers were all ineffective.

Barnes, who started, was in trouble on almost every batter and Baldwin who relieved him in the sixth inning, was not much better. Dean was sent in to relieve Baldwin at the start of the eighth inning and he was greeted by three singles in succession.

SENDS GREETINGS TO MASSACHUSETTS

Grant L. Shumway For the State andO maha Chamber of Commerce Tells of Reciprocal Relations.

"Current Affairs," published by the Boston chamber of commerce, September 29, contained "The Tie That Binds," "Being a statement by Grant Shumway, and a breakfast statement by E W. Edwardson," by the Omaha chamber of commerce. These were broadcasted from Boston.

This introduces Grant Shumway, secretary Nebraska department of Agriculture.

"Nebraska's interest in commercial enterprise in New England begins with the dawning of every day when we rise to the standard time of Waltham watches.

"From New England mills Nebraska receives her textiles. In a thousand homes in Nebraska the genius of Elias Howe, a Massachusetts man, is exemplified in sewing machines.

"Reciprocally, Nebraska furnishes food for New England, and raw materials, hides and wool, for her factories. Nebraska supplies food products of corn, oats and wheat, as well as carloads of poultry, butter, eggs, apples, graded potatoes and some meat products.

"The world owes to Massachusetts a debt of gratitude for Franklin, who achieved rudimentary knowledge of the great reservoir of electricity that fills the atmosphere and is now drawn on to serve mankind in Nebraska as elsewhere, in lights, telephone, telegraph, radio, heat and power. We owe to Franklin the development of the press—that instrument for disseminating information and education.

"We owe to New England much for the inspiration of Harvard and Yale, which stirs the spirit of university life which has built Nebraska state university to a world-wide usefulness. And New England owes to Nebraska something for the services of Augustus C. Thomas formerly state superintendent of this state, now of Maine, and president of the world federation of educational association. We owe to Boston much for music and for spiritual exaltation.

"But in the commercial relationships between these states in exchanges of products of our genius and industry, we have neglected something; namely, what happens in the twilight between producers and consumers. Between producers price and the consumer's price there is a margin far too wide. Transportation and middlemen are exacting more tribute than is healthy for us at the ends of our mutual transaction.

"This will be remedied—a start is made for a statewide organization created in Nebraska for the purpose of supplying direct to distribution of supplying direct to distribution institutions of Massachusetts and New England, the staple products of Nebraska farms, eggs graded and guaranteed, and butter of Nebraska's highest quality, and other products The same organization will endeavor to supply Nebraska's needs from New England sources of those things most essential to our welfare, avoiding the price boosting processes of our elaborate commercial evolution

"Greetings to you of New England, with best wishes for closer commercial relationship, from Nebraska."

This is the breakfast greeting from E. A. Edwardson of the Omaha chamber of commerce Omaha is the wealthiest per capita area in America and the logical distributing point for the central west

"Every morning we greet our friends of the east at the breakfast table Luscious hams and bacons prepared in a Nebraska packing plant are served you right after you rollie to help you start the day in a cheery disposition The Omaha livestock market is third largest in the United States, but what's ham and bacon without eggs, butter and toast? Again Nebraska greets you with a smile for she ships to Boston alone, each year, over three million pounds of butter and twenty thousand cases of eggs. From Nebraska's sixty million bushels of wheat, in which crop she ranks third in the country, you are supplied with bread or toast for your breakfast. If you prefer corn bread, help yourself from the 200 million bushels of corn Nebraska grows each year, worth more than $100,000,000 to her farmers. The Omaha Grain Exchange, first primary grain market of the country, handles about 68 million bushels each year So Nebraska starts its cheery greeting to New England, and the world, right at breakfast."

MORGAN TELLS HOW TO SCRATCH VOTE

County Clerk Explains Way in Which Voter May Vote Straight and Yet Scratch.

The innumerable requests for directions on how to vote a straight ticket and yet scratch it, have been pouring into the county clerk's office lately, Tuesday caused County Clerk Morgan to get the statute book off the shelf and look it up "for sure"

Mr. Morgan stated that a large number of staunch party men had dropped in and asked how they could vote a straight ticket with one or two exceptions. The answer to this, says the county clerk, is to place a cross in the party circle and then go on down the ballot and vote for the men of your choice that are not in your particular party.

The election law, he states, provides that in such instances the election officials shall count the ballot with the exceptions indicated in the small squares by the voter.

Kirkbride distributed instructions and application cards to his thirty-two captains, each representing a division of the business section. WELFARE COUNCIL TO MEET TUESDAY

C. C. Karstens, Child Welfare Specialist, to Address Annual Meeting—Elect Officers.

C. C. Karstens of the national child welfare association will address the annual meeting of the Lincoln council of social agencies following a banquet at the Grand hotel at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. The subject of his talk will be "Child Welfare." J. W. Searson, president of the Lincoln council, received word Tuesday morning from Mr. Karstens that the latter would arrive from Omaha during the afternoon.

Election of officers for the Lincoln council, to serve during the coming year, will be taken up in the course of business at the annual meeting which will follow the banquet. Representatives of all social welfare organizations in Lincoln constitute the council.

Mr. Searson, who assumed the presidency of the council last spring to fill out the unexpired term of Dr. T. F. A. Williams, expressed his firm belief in the community chest plan Tuesday.

"I feel that a great work can be done here, and if all the agencies cooperate the community chest will work out very well, but if all of the agencies do not do their utmost to cooperate, the community chest is doomed.

"I think we have come to the point where we must either cooperate fully and enable the plan to fulfill its function, or else accept the old system of having fifty or seventy-five separate agencies at work in the city independently.

"There are two hundred and sixty national welfare agencies trying to establish local branches in cities of from 50,000 to 100,000 population at present. If is a question whether we want what we have co-ordinated and administered economically, or whether we prefer to throw what central organization we have to the winds, and allow any number of agencies to be set up promiscuously."

MAY ERECT BIG STATION

RADIO CORPORATION WANTS NO INTERFERENCE.

Question of Curbing Power of Broadcasting Stations Comes to Front in Second Day of Conference.

WASHINGTON, Oct 7.—The Radio corporation of America is ready to begin immediate erection of a great super-power broadcasting station at some point outside the city of New York, if no regulatory proposals are adopted that would limit this power, David Sarnoff, vice president of the corporation, announced at the radio conference here today.

With the second day's session of the third national radio conference plunging into technical problems laid down by Secretary of Commerce Hoover the question of curbing the power of broadcastnig stations came squarely to the front. Organized opposition to the trend of high powered broadcasting was first shown by the resolution of the radio committee of the American Newspaper Publishers association, representing forty-one newspaper broadcasters, which recommended to the conference that the present one-kilowatt power restriction be maintained.

The large radio broadcasting concerns, nearly all interested in the sale of receiving apparatus, are said to favor stations of greater power than now permitted.

To furnish one program from a single large station would be more economical than to provide similar entertainment from several smaller plants necessary to cover the same territory, the manufacturers argue.

YERDICT IS INCONSISTENT

Supreme Court Reverses Case Because Jury Acted Contradictorily.

Three law suits in which the aFrmers' State bank of Craig and E. J. Martin, its managing officer, were defendants were decided by the supreme court Tuesday. All grew out of sales of Missouri Valley Cattle Loan company stock by Mr. Martin to farmers in the neighborhood, which stock later proved worthless. Three of them sued the bank and Martin for their losses.

W. R. Mansfield secured a judgment against Martin while the bank got a judgment against him for the $2,500 note it held. The supreme court reverses this case, on the ground that as for all practical purposes Martin was sthe bank, the verdict was contradictory. In the cases of S. J. Lydick and Grover J. Koehler, where they claimed Martin was one of a group of conspirators to unload this stock, the judgments below were for the bank and for Martin, and these the court affirms.

FOURTH GAME OF THE WORLD SERIES

Senators Have Heads Up and Hands High After Two Defeats.

WORRIED OVER PECKINPAUGH

Shortstop Taken Out of Game on Monday.

HOT SUN ON THE FIELD

Buck Harris Uncertain Before Game Whether to Call on Johnson or Gamble With Curly Odgen.

BY HENRY L. FARRELL.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Unsteady after taking two solid body punches, the game Washington Senators had their heads up and their hands tight when they gathered here this afternoon for the fourth game of the world's series against the New York Giants.

With two games against their one in a short series, the Senators found themselves in a position where they had to take the offensive and let their defense worry along like Jack Dempsey's.

Bucky Harris, the young manager of the American league champions, admitted when he arrived at th park that he was up against it.

The youngest manager in the major leagues admitted frankly that Walter Johnson offered him his biggest problem. He said he didn't know whether it would be best to call on Johnson today with one day short of his regular set or gamble with Curly Ogden on the chance that he might turn in the game, and that Johnson would be much better tomorrow with another day of rest.

The Senators, the thousands of Washington visitors here and the thousands more of New Yorkers who rooted in yesterday's game against the Giants, were concerned about the condition of Roger Peckinpaugh, the star Senator shortstop, who had to be taken out of yesterday's game with a charley horse. When the Washington players arrived at the grounds they said they hoped he would be able to play.

The weather was again a reminder of mid-August. A hot sun poured down out of clear skies. The field was lightning fast.

While he is never willing to give positive information about his pitching selections, Manager McGraw was rather definite in intimating that he would send young Virgil Barnes out after the important game.

ASK FOR NEW BOND ISSUE

PETITIONS ARE PRESENTED TO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Thirty Representatives of School Districts Present Needs of Children at Meeting Tuesday.

Thirty patrons of the city schools visited the board of education Tuesday morning, bearing petitions asking submission of a bond issue to the taxpayers at the November election. It was stated that other petitions were being circulated thru the parent-teacher associations and would come in later. Action was postponed until a full report is received from the districts. The matter will come up at a special session of the board to be held Friday at 8:30 a. m. The law requires that notice of such election must be made at least twenty-one days before voting time.

Mrs. L. W. Chase and Prof. J. H. Frandsen were the chief spokesmen for the Clinton district. They said as many children in that district are housed in basements and portables as in the building proper. They presented a petition with 900 signatures.

Prof. W. W. Burr made a request that the section from Thirty-third to Fortieth and from X to Holdrege be added to the Hartley district. Representatives from Hartley asked for an additional four rooms to lessen the overcrowding. Patrons from the Park district brought a petition with 700 signatures. Mrs. A. C. Fish spoke for Hartley.

The Franklin Park and Sheridan districts had their case submitted by Dr. W. C. Becker. Mrs. John Dreith brought a petition from the Park school district with 700 names. A petition from the Randolph district was received by mail. Word was received that the Randolph patrons were working on a petition.

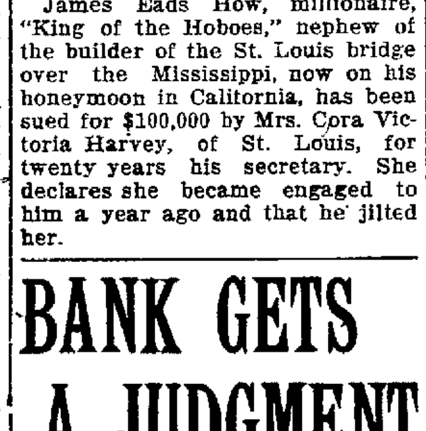

Superintendent Lefler announced that the night schools would open October 20 and would continue twenty weeks. The hours will be from 7 to 9 on several evenings each week. More exact information is to be furnished later.

Dr. B. F. Bailey introduced a motion which was adopted that the mayor be notified of the dangerous condition of sidewalks on South street. He stated the only good walk along the street was laid by the school board and that a number of accidents had already happened. The danger was great to school children as well as other pedestrians, he said.

No action was taken relating to a letter received by board members from Commissioner Cowgill asking the board to change location and grade of storm sewers at Twenty-second and Lake and on the Saratoga grounds.

Mrs. J. J. Nelson and Mrs. A. W. Cook of the Lakeview district appearde before the board to request that the seventh and eighth grades be added to the school course. At present children are instructed in the six lower grades in the new building, but come into Lincoln for the upper classes. There are fourteen children in the district of the upper grades. The visitors were told of the additional expense of maintaining a full time teacher for so small a number, and of the loss of instruction in manual training, music and other special courses that would result if the upper grade children got their education only at the Lake View school.

James Eads How, millionaire, "King of the Hoboes," nephew of the builder of the St. Louis bridge over the Mississippi, now on his honeymoon in California, has been sued for $100,000 by Mrs. Cora Victoria Harvey, of St. Louis, for twenty years his secretary. She declares she became engaged to him a year ago and that he jilted her.

STATE PEN OVER FULL

SIX HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVEN PRISONERS.

Forty Recently Received From Douglas County With Twenty-Six There on the Waiting List.

Six hundred and twenty-seven prisoners are now crowded in the Nebraska penitentiary, the largest number ever housed there. The board of control, comprising A. E. Allyn, L. C. Oberlies and Mrs. F. J. Birss, is cooperating with the warden and his assistants to find sleeping quarters.

The increase in prison population is due to the recent receipt of forty prisoners from the Douglas county jail. Twenty-six more state prisoners in that jail are on the waiting list. For the relief of Douglas county the board has made room at the prison by placing two men in cells where one ought to be, by housing 110 outside of cells in rooms fitted up with bunks, all within the walls.

An average of fifteen women prisoners are included in the prison population. These the state board very much desires to have kept at the reformatory for women at York, but the lawmakers have not consented.

The penitentiary was built to house about 400 prisoners. Without the aid of the reformatory for men at Lincoln the prison would be too small to contain more than half the prisoners. There are 210 men at the reformatory.

There are sixty cells in the east cell house at the penitentiary. Eighty-five men are housed there. The west cell house contains 234 cells.

Eleven prisoners are kept in the hospital, two prisoners sleep in the barn, two in the hot house and one in the chicken house. The board must lay in a supply of provisions for the increased population. It is estimated that the prisoners will eat one car load of potatoes in a month. The pardon and parole board may gradually reduce the population if it finds reason to release a lot of prisoners at its monthly hearings.

SHENANDOAH BEGINS TRIP

Huge Dirigible to Cross the Continent.

LEAVES LAKEHURST TUESDAY

First Stop is Planned at Fort Worth, Tex.

Nine Thousand Mile Flight is Expected to Take About Thirteen Days—Crew of Forty Aboard.

ABOARD U. S. N. DIRIGIBLE, SHENANDOAH, EN ROUTE TO FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 7.—(By wireless to United Press)—"On your way!"

With this cheer ringing in our ears, above the roar of motors and the noise of getting away from the landing mast, the Shenandoah cast off and headed for Fort Worth, Texas, on the first leg of her long journey to the Pacific coast today.

It was just 10 a. m. when Commander Zachary Lansdowne signaled and we were turned loose from the mooring mast at the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J, where we had been floating since shortly after daybreak.

The big dirigible seemed to shake her head with joy at being free in her native element—the air.

Commander Lansdowne had decided to take the southern route, after getting his weather reports so we headed south towards Baltimore and Washington. The weather was ideal officers said, but there was a slight haze along the New Jersey coast.

There are eleven officers, twenty-seven enlisted men and two passengers on the airship, including Real Admiral W. A. Moffatt, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautic and known to thousands of gobs who served under him while he was commandant of the Great Lakes naval training station during the world war. One of the crew is F. L. Peckham, Humboldt, Iowa, enlisted man.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 7.—The giant naval dirigible Shenandoah took off on her long flight to the Pacific coast at 10 a. m. today.

The weather was sunny with only a slight haze.

The first stop will be at Fort Worth, Tex., where it is due Thursday morning.

The big silver air vessel headed northward and circled the naval air station field before pointing its nose toward the south.

Discovery of a twenty mile northeast wind at the 1,000 foot level shortly before the takeoff led to a change in route, the southern alternative first leg route being chosen. This will bring the airship over Wilmington, Baltimore, Washington, Fredericksburg, Va., Atlanta, Birmingham and across Louisiana to Fort Worth.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 7.—The Shenandoah passed over Wilmington at 11:45.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 7.—The Shenandoah passed over Baltimore at 1:23 p. m.

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUNDS, MARYLAND, Oct. 7.—The Shenandoah passed over here at 1 p. m. today.

REFUND TO STATE BANKS

Banking Department is Paying Back $101,275 Advanced to the Conservation Fund.

The state banking department is busy writing checks to state banks as a refund to the bankers conservation fund. The checks will total $101,275.61 and will constitute payment in full of the draft drawn upon that fund May 23, 1923.

The largest of these checks mailed out is a refund to the State Bank of Omaha, amounting to $2,026.18. Secretary Knudson of the state department said he believed another refund can be made in a short time. The bankers' conservation fund is made up of a special assessment uopn banks. The fund was created by act of the last legislature. It is used to aid weak banks but is drawn upon only after the guaranty fund commisison takes charge of a bank needing help. The money used in making the refund is derived from assets of failed banks. A large part of it came from assets of the Atalas Bank of Neligh.

MORGAN TELLS HOW TO SCRATCH VOTE

County Clerk Explains Way in Which Voter May Vote Straight and Yet Scratch.

The innumerable requests for directions on how to vote a straight ticket and yet scratch it have been pouring into the county clerk's office lately. Tuesday caused County Clerk Morgan to get the statute book off the shelf and look it up "for sure."

Mr. Morgan stated that a large number of staunch party men had dropped in and asked how they could vote a straight ticket with one or two exceptions. The answer to this, says the county clerk, is to place a cross in the party circle and then go on down the ballot and vote for the men of your choice that are not in your particular party.

The election law, he states, provides that in such instances the election officials shall count the ballot with the exceptions indicated in the small squares by the voter.

Feeling was intense and further trouble was anticipated.

SPEED LAW ALL RIGHT

NOT INDEFINITE OR TOO GENERAL COURT HOLDS.

Webster County Youth Who Ran Down Another Autoist Must Pay Heavy Fine Imposed by Trial Judge.

The supreme court Tuesday affirmed, without filing a written opinion, the conviction in Webster county of Hobart Brown, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $350 for unlawful operation of an automobile. Brown was dashing along the road at night at a rate of speed alleged by the state to be in excess of thirty-five miles an hour, and when darting down a hill ran into a small car in which Ralph Newhouse and two girls were riding. The car was thrown a hundred feet into a ditch, and Newhouse testified that one of his hands was permanently injured.

The principal defense of Brown was that the law which makes it unlawful to operate an automobile on any highway outside a city at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard for the traffic and use of the road and the condition of the road nor at a rate that will endanger life or limb or other uses, is unconstitutional. The supreme court decision in effect holds the law to be valid.

In the argument much stress was laid on the claim that this is too general and indefinite and impossible to be enforced; that it leaves to conjecture whether the rate at which a person is running his machine is lawful or unlawful, and that the constitution requires that the elements of a crime must be specifically set out so as to leave nothing to guesswork as to what is being done is lawful or unlawful.

The state maintained that another part of the statute fixed the limit at thirty-five miles an hour, and that as the evidence showed Brown was violating that section it was sufficient. Brown denied this and said Newhouse's light had gone out. Others testified to the contrary.

The court also entered an order affirming without opinion the conviction of Lawrence Thiede and a companion in Hastings on a charge of violating the liquor law. Thiede's attorney wanted the court to denounce the practice of the state in employing men to buy liquor from suspected contraband dealers, and argued that soliciting a purchase was equally unlawful with soliciting a sale. The court said nothing on this point. The defense was an alibi.

BANK GETS A JUDGMENT

GUARANTY FUND LOSES OUT IN WINSIDE CONTROVERSY.

Supreme Court Says Law Limiting Bank's Borrowings Can't Operate to Deprive Lender of His Dues.

The Omaha National bank won a substantial victory in supreme court Tuesday when that tribunal held that it was entitled to retain all of the collateral that it had taken from the Farmers State bank of Winside before its failure to support large loans made to the bank on notes signed by it and various of its oficers. The district court had sought to classify the loans, and gave the Omaha bank judgment for about $40,000 less than it claimed.

The state gauranty fund commission was the other party to the suit. It insisted upon the Omaha bank returning to it all of the collateral or the proceeds, of its sales which was in excess of the limit placed by law upon the amount the Winside bank could borrow. Its attorney contended that the Omaha bank was chargeable with knowledge of the law that said the Winside bank could not borrow more than two-thirds of its capital stock and surplus, and knowing the borrowing limit of the Winside bank and also of the limit of its charter could not retain the excess.

The supreme court says that the law that limited the borrowing capacity of a state bank, prior to the last session of the legislature, carried no penalty—being directory and not mandatory—and that for the court to assess a penalty as asked by the commission would be judicial legislation of a pronounced character. The purpose of the legislature, as deduced from all the circumstances, was held to

BRYAN SAYS G. O. P. STRENGTH BROKEN

Democratic Nominee at Kansas City to Confer With State Party Leaders on Way to Southwest.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 7.—Republican strength in the middle west is being undermined by dissension within the party, according to Charles W. Bryan, democratic vice presidential nominee who was in Kansas City for two hours today.

Bryan conferred with state party leaders here before leaving for points in Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado on a speaking tour.

The cause of democracy is gaining strength in the states Bryan has visited, he told newspaper men.

When asked what he thought of the Brookhart-Dawes tilt, Bryan replied:

"I am entirely neutral on that. It makes no difference to me who wrecks the republican party."

BLOCK SALE IS APPROVED

LITIGATION OVER DRAPER ESTATE AND WILL ENDED.

Frank D. Eager Gets Supreme Court Approval of His Purchase of Building Known as McBride Block.

A finish was put Tuesday by the supreme court to extended litigation involving the purchase by Frank D. Eager from the executors of the estate of Former Councilman Tom Draper of the building at Twelfth and P streets long known as the McBride block.

James Draper, a son, began an action to have the sale set aside, claiming inadequate consideration and lack of power on the part of the executors to dispose of it. He claimed that Eager had been given a very favorable contract when he was to pay, over a series of years $54,000 for the building.

This involved a construction of the will. In this Draper had sought to keep his estate together as much as possible so that his wife would have an adequate income, but to meet contingencies had put in an authorization for the executors to sell what was necessary to carry out his plans.

The supreme court says that the will clothed the executors with complete authority to sell whenever necessary, and holds that as a matter of law they are the judges of whether or not such necessity exists. Their decision as to such necessity, the court says, is conclusive if fairly and honestly arrived at.

The court says that the evidence sustains the decision of the Lancaster county district judge that the block was in bad repair, that it needed reconstruction that would cost considerable money while the estate had none to do it with, and that as the widow gets $33,000 which will yield $2,000 a year income the provisions of the will have been properly carried out.

GET $25,000 FOR A RAM.

DENILIQUIN, Australia. — (By Mail.)—A record price in the world's sheep industry was set when the Austin-Wanganella company sold a five-year-old stud ram for $25,000. It was bought by a breeder of a nearby city. It is interesting to note that a son of the same animal recently sold for $15,000.

Secretary Work to Start Probe of Sensational Charges By Wheeler

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 7.—Demand for a complete investigation of his sensational charges involving President Coolidge and Secretary of the interior Work in alleged illegal transactions was made by Senator Burton K Wheeler, independent vice presidential candidate here today.

A congressional committee or some other impartial organization of inquiry should sift the facts in the cases he cited, Wheeler said. To an audience in Seattle, Wash., Wheeler submitted the following which he contended was proof:

1—That Secretary Work who succeeded Albert B Fall, had entered a secret pact with the J. P. Morgan Guggenheim interests to ruin the government's Alaskan railroad and give them an illegal monopoly of the government's Alaskan resources.

2—That President Coolidge, while governor of Massachusetts, had ordered deposits of state funds in the Max Mitchell Cosmopolitan bank greater than is legally permitted and that Mitchell contributed $6,000 to the Coolidge campaign of 1920 when only $1,000 was permitted by Massachusetts law.

Wheeler has what he claims is a copy of the Work-Morgan contract and certified court records in the Coolidge Mitchell case. His charge against Work is based on the contention that a contract recently signed gives the Morgan-Guggenheim mines preferential rates and rights over the government railroad. The Morganites get a $6 rail rate where other parties are forced to pay $44, Wheeler charged.

The charge against Coolidge is based on the alleged testimony of Fred S. Burnell, Massachusetts state treasurer, in a Boston law suit. After quoting Burrell to the effect that Mitchell, president of the bank, had informed him he needed more money immediately or the bank would fail, Wheeler said.

"Burrell then testified that he went to Governor Calvin Coolidge and that Coolidge told him to put more state money in the Cosmopolitan bank at once. The total deposits of state funds in the bank were more than $1,000,000 altho the legal limit 40 per cent—would have been $240,000."

Concluding his argument, Wheeler said.

"The state law of Massachusetts provided that no individual shall contribute more than $1,000 to any one election. Max Mitchell gave $6,000 to Calvin Coolidge's campaign in violation of the law."

Wheeler delivers an address here tonight and then swings into California for an intensive campaign.

PROPOSE MERGER TERMS

Commission May Set Date For Beginning Consolidation of Gas and Traction Property.

The state railway commissioner held a conference Tuesday with President Sharp of the Lincoln Traction company and officers and attorneys of the Continental Gas & Electric company in regard to the proposed order authorizing a merger of the traction company and the Continental company. The question of fixing a date for commencing the work of physical connection was discussed. It had been suggested that the companies present to the railway commission within six months their proposed plans for physical connection. No announcement will be made at present by the railway commission in regard to the conditions which will be incorporated when an order is issued. Commissioners Browne and Randall were present. Commissioner Taylor is out of town. The commission may settle the matter upon his return the first of next week.

Your Problems

BY MARY GORDON

Dear Mary Gordon: Nine months ago I married a young man who told me he had $500 saved. But after the wedding, and while we were on the honeymoon (which we had to cut short because of lack of funds) I found out he had $75 only. I asked him why he had deceived me—he is old enough to know better—we are both twenty-three and he couldn't say.

I kept on working as I thought for a time, but I guess it will be forever. When we came back to Lincoln, he got a job for $24 a week. Just imagine a married man trying to support even himself on that! I am making $30. Well, he soon lost that job but told me he could get another if I would give him $100 and make a $200 payment on a flivver, which he would need to travel around and sell this article on which he secured "state's rights." I had saved about $300 and gladly gave it to him, thinking at last we would be where we could make something. In the meantime we took a room and kitchenette in a poor quarter of the city, because it was cheap. Mary, you never saw such a room, dirty white bed, one chair (one of us has to sit on the bed) rug dirty and frayed, kitchenette just big enough to turn around in. But I wouldn't have minded if he had made anything.

But he didn't—he even lost money and I had to borrow to send him for living expenses. Then he came back, without his job, and now we have the flivver on our hands and in order not to lose all we put in that, we have to live on next to nothing. My husband is certainly not a business man and I'm wondering if I ought to leave him. I am so worried that I can scarcely do my own work at the office. I think if I quit supporting him, he might get out and stick to a job.—Twenty-three.

A. Your husband is very young, dear Twenty-three, younger than you for all the fact that you were born in the same year. A woman is always older. Taking that into account, and the knowledge that every woman must mother her husband, go on as you have been doing, encouraging your husband to do his best. He will find a job in the end, and a good one, too, I am sure. He may not just at first, but it is bound to come.

A woman needs to forgive and forgive and bear and forbear. As long as your husband's indiscretions are no worse, I would continue doing just the best I could.

Dear Mary Gordon: Is there any good home remedy for a cold? Do you think it is wise to take cold serum? I have started on an endless round of colds again this fall, and am becoming disgusted.—D. D.

A. Drink lots of water when you feel a cold coming on. Take a quarter of a teaspoon of soda in water four times a day. This is a comparatively new treatment prescribed by leading physicians and aids in breaking up a cold, even tho it is a severe one.

Most doctors prefer to find the cause of continued colds. However, some people take cold serum with good results.

Dear Mary Gordon: I wonder if any of the news readers have or could tell me where I could obtain the piece of poetry entitled, "Tim Twinkiton's Twins."—Mrs. W. B.

Brown Eyes: There was no great harm in it. If you like him, take him back.

Household Suggestions

Green vegetables keep their color better if cooked uncovered.

A good way to air a mattress is to draw it over the footboard and let it stand thus for half a day.

To make oilcloth last a long time be careful when you wash it. Use water very sparingly, as it is apt to soak thru the cloth and rot it.

A lamp-shade that tones in with almost any scheme of decoration is of silvery tinted grass cloth. It is pleated, and at the top and bottom is a band of apple green.

Soda is excellent for the water in which you are washing greasy dishes but it should be avoided if the dishes have gilt on them because it has a tendency to eat it off gradually.

LITTLE PLAN DIDN'T WORK

Omaha Night Patrolman Found Asleep by Inspectors, Just as Alarm Goes Off.

OMAHA, Oc. 7.—Patrolman Baron Butts had a beautiful plan which involved only the assistance of one alarm clock and one comfortable place to sleep, to while away the long nights on his lonesome Benson beat.

But last night Sergeants Anderson and Jensen made an inspection trip to Benson. They walked into the military garage just as the alarm clock went off. Up jumped Butts from a nap and rushed to the telephone to make his regular report to headquarters.

Butts presented his resignation to Chief of Police Van Deusen today.

HUGE SUMS FOR FEDERAL AID

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Federal and state governments have expended $1,688,047.12 to promote the welfare of mothers and babies under the federal maternity and infancy act during the first fifteen months following its passage. This statement was made public by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor in connection with the forthcoming first official report of the maternity and infancy act, passed by congress November 21, 1921. Federal grants to the states during this period for maternity and infancy work totaled $1,046,523.56. State appropriations made to match federal funds totaled $641,523.56. In 1922, payments were made to forty-three states, twenty-eight of which matched the federal grant in full or in part. In 1923, forty-one states received grants for maternity and infancy work, thirty-five of which matched the allotment in full or in part.

Says New Method Heals Rupture

Kansas City Doctor's Discovery Makes Truss or Operation Unnecessary.

A new discovery which, experts agree, has no equal for curative effects in all rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of Dr. Andrews, well known Hernia Specialist of Kansas City, Mo. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it holds and heals a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces. Has no hard gouging pads, no elastic belt, no leg straps, no steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Andrews' ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery, and he will send it on free trial to any reader of the Journal who writes him. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free offer. Write him today.

CAN YOU SOLVE—

The "Bert" Mystery.

(One of the World's Greatest Detectives Did)

Knowing the extreme care which is used in numbering bonds, Rush D. Simmons, chief of the United States Postal Inspection Service, felt certain that in the two identically numbered Bethlehem Steel bonds which had been found in the vaults of a New York bank were genuine, as they undoubtedly were, the numbers on one of them must have been altered. Examination of the bonds under a powerful magnifying glass showed that this was true and indicated that the altered bond was probably one of those taken from the United States mail truck which had been held up some six months before, with the loss of $1,350,000 in money and bonds.

Tracing the bond back, it was found that it had come from Detroit, where it had been given in part payment for a piece of real estate. But here the trail was so muddled that it was practically impossible to follow it. Leaving several of his men in Detroit, Chief Simmons returned to New York to run down the additional information, also obtained in Detroit thru underground sources, that some more of the stolen bonds were to be disposed of in the east.

Part of a suite belonging to one of the largest operators on Wall street was rented by the Postal Inspection Service and a broker "planted" there with instructions to let it become known that he was none too inquisitive as to the past history of the bonds he handled. As Simmons had hoped, the men behind the Leonard street robbery swallowed the bait and one of their agents came in with $60,000 worth of stole bonds, on which the numbers had been carefully changed. In return for a promise of immunity from further prosecution, the man who was trying to sell the bonds revealed the name of the client for whom he was working, and, more than a year after one of the most sensational holdups in the history of the Postal Inspection service, Chief Simmons had the satisfaction of seeing the two men who had staged the robbery, as well as the man who had planned it, on their way to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, after practically all of the stolen bonds and a large part of the missing currency had been recovered.

THE "BERT" MYSTERY.

"Here's the note, Mr. West. It came in a plain envelope postmarked Dawson, Ga., and there's nothing about it to give any clue to the owner."

The man across the desk from C. D. West, chief of the Bureau of Prosecution of the National Association of Credit Men, produced a sheet of paper and passed it over for examination.

"'You recently sold some goods to William Montgomery'," West read. "'It would pay you to investigate. Signed, 'Your friend, BERT'."

"Who is Montgomery?" West asked. "Is anything wrong with his account?"

"Yes and no," was the answer. "Montgomery is a customer of ours in Dawson who has been buying a fair amount of goods for a year or so. He's got a good-sized account with us right now, but he seems to be all right. But this letter, the third one of the kind we've received, seems to call for an investigation."

"The third?" West echoed. "What became of the other two?"

"I didn't pay any attention to them. Just thought they were spitework and threw them in the basket. All of them came from Dawson and they were all signed 'Bert'."

"I think I'd better take a run down to Georgia and look the ground over," declared West. "The case looks as though it might be distinctly interesting." A few days later a man who posed as a traveling salesman dropped off the train at Dawson, Ga., and began to make inquiries about the various stores in town.

"Don't know as you'll find much business here," the hotel proprietor informed him. "We haven't got many stores. Montgomery's does the most business, spite o' the fact that they're th' newest. Then there's Jim Miller, and George Culbertson, and Joe Winger and Henry Hollis. All o' them have stores that do a fair amount o' trade."

But West had already found out what he wanted to know. He felt certain that he could spot the man who had written the anonymous letters, and that, from him, he could get a line on the situation.

Would you know who had posted the letters signed "Bert"?

Tomorrow the Answer will Appear.

VILLARD TALKS TO STUDENT AUDIENCE

Editor Discusses Journalistic Situations and Newspaper Politics Before University Convocations

The journalism situation in America is not acute as it is in England but it is fairly serious, Oscar Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation, suggested to university students and others at convocation Tuesday morning. Mr. Villard is a grandson of William Lloyd Garrison, the famous abolitionist of slavery days. Garrison owned a printing press. He started a newspaper without a dollar to run it with, slept on the floor of his composing room for a year and lived on snatches from the bakery around the corner. But he made his cause so powerful that $5,000 was offered for him, dead or alive. The changes which have taken place in the newspaper since that time, largely for the worse, was a part of Mr. Villard's theme.

Mr. Villard's quarrel with the newspaper of today is not its partisanship, but its lack of touch with the great mass of people. The editorial writers of today, he makes accusation, are uninformed. They are no longer personalities and leaders. The owners of the papers do not want them t obe. Their lot is thrown with the "chamber of commerce crowd," where they get only a very conservative view. As a clear case in point he cited the instance of Senator Shipstead of Minnesota, whose election was a great astonishment to the Minneapolis editors, because they were completely out of touch with the thoughts and feelings of the people.

The constant diminution of the number of papers in the large cities of the country is to Mr. Villard a condition to be viewed with some alarm. Where once there were seven or eight now there are perhaps only two. "I am really sorry," said he, "for the people of Chicago, who are between the frying pan of the Chicago Tribune and the fire of Mr. Hearst's papers." In many cities practically but one point of view is presented to the readers. While the situation in the United States is not yet serious he pointed out that it was not impossible to become so in time. Group ownership of newspapers is always to a certain extent a menace to government.

The subject of M. Villard's address was "Journalism and Politics." Speaking more specifically of politics he pointed out how the third party had injected life into the present campaign, which without its issues would have degenerated into a mere discussion of personalities. This third party, he said, presented the spectacle of a party almost totally without backing, with the exception of the Scripps newspapers and the questionable aid of the Hearst papers upon him shows that the state committee seek to prevent the names of Mr. Pool, Floyd L. Bollen, O. S. Spillman, John H. Morehead and A. C. Shallenberger from being printed upon the general election ballots on the ground that they are not affiliated with the party.

Judge Frost issued a temporary restraining order and set the case for hearing October 11. Mr. Pool at first stated that the date is two days after the law requires him to certify the names of candidates to county clerks, but he took another look at the law and found that the Keck bill amending section 2155 of the statutes, passed by thelast legislature, requires the secretary of state to certify the candidates not later than twenty days before the November election, whereas the former law provided that this must be done twenty-five days before election. Mr. Pool has until October 15 to act.

The progressive party committee has notified Secretary of State Pool that it will take the deposition of J. K. Richmond, October 10, beginnig at 9 a. m., in the office of the clerk of the district court at Alma.

WOULD OUST CANDIDATES

Names Are to Be Certified by Secretary of State to County Clerks October 9.

Secretary of State Pool has received legal notice that the progressive state committee has filed an injunction suit in the district court of Lancaster county to prevent him from certifying to county clerks the names of several candidates who were nominated on the progressive party ticket at the primary election. The notice served

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with clam granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CHURCH CASE IS DISMISSED

STATE WAITED TOO LONG TO PROSECUTE YOUTH.

Not Arrested Until Years After Date of Alleged Offense and After Young Man Had Wedded.

The supreme court Tuesday ordered the district court of Hamilton county to dismiss the information there against Rollie Church, and also found that he had not been properly convicted of a charge of chicken stealing. The case excited a lot of interest in that section of the state, and altho but a brief sentence had been imposed upon him, two lawyers came up to argue in his behalf before the supreme court.

The finding of the supreme court is that the state waited too long to start a prosecution and that as he never had been a fugitive from justice, the prosecution was barred by law at the time that it was instituted. The date of the alleged offense was April 10, 1920, and it was not until September 24, 1923, tha the was informed against and arrested. The state said the reason was that the former sheriff did not want to arrest Church, and that anyway he had been awal for more than a year, even his folks not knowing his whereabouts.

Vigorous arguments for Church stressed the fact that he was in a position to be arrested at any time if there was anything actually against him: that the prosecution was delayed until after he had married and settled down and at a time when his witnesses had gone. He admitted handling the chickens, but said he had purchased them in the due course of trade.

Phillips Loses Appeal.

John N. Phillips, erstwhile proprietor of a moving picture theatre in Table Rock, is destined to serve the three years the district court gave him after he was convicted of an assault with intent to commit rape upon fifteen-year-old Blanche McKnight. Phillips employed a sister of the girl to stamp dates on bills. One day he sent for Blanche to assist her sister. While she was in the building he took her back of the curtain, and there, on the pretense of measuring her physical proportions, he was guilty of conduct that sent her home crying. The girl said he had also tried to get her to let him take a picture of her in the nude.

When the girl's mother came bursting into the theatre to accuse him, she said he said he was ashamed of himself, and invited her to come in and he would make it right with her. She replied that he would have to make it all right with the "old man," and that she intended having him arrested.

Phillips denied the story and said he was working in a neighbor's house, but the neighbor said he was not there until an hour after the time of the offense. When the sheriff arrested him he said that if he had done anything wrong he must have been crazy. The court says his defense was evasive, and that his conviction was fully justified.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Several new dances were predicted for the coming season. The waltz and two step were not to be replaced, but supplemented by the Verona minuet, the gavotte pompadour and the Rosahe, Netherlands and Cuban waltzes.

Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Grimes gave a card paty in celebration of the first anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McCain.

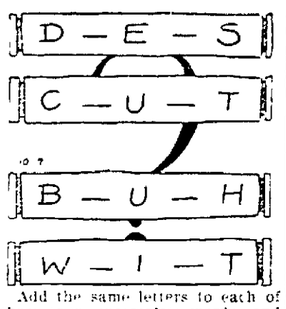

Miss Henrietta Hollowbush started for Chicago where she would spend the remainder of the winter, studying voice culture and marketing her musical compositions.

Clare Briggs, who had gone to New York to try his fortunes at cartooning, wrote home about the Dewey festivities in the metropolis. It took the parade six hours to pass the point where he stood.

Good Thing to Know about stopping a cold

At the first sniffle take a stiff dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, expel the congestion and avoid a cold

THE commonest afflictions of mankind are constipation and colds. Combined they indirectly cause the majority of untimely deaths. It is when constipated that you are most subject to colds, so keep the bowels open.

Sneezing is almost always the first warning of a cold. Don't wait; don't hope that it will go away of itself. Take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, cleansing the intestines of accumulated poisons, bundle up warmly and the cold will be gone by morning. Colds cannot "run their course" when stopped at the outset. That spoonful of Syrup Pepsin may stop it.

A good laxative is a necessity in the home. Since Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being sold annually, the majority of families must prefer it.

And rightly so, for in the 30 years it has been on the market it has relieved thousands of people of those ailments it was designed to remedy, such as constipation, biliousness, indigestion, flatulency, sour stomach, dyspepsia, bad breath, fevers and colds. It will relieve any disorder associated with constipation. It is the safest, most gentle intestinal treatment you can get. Mr. J. C. Boney, 969 Main St., Biloxi, Miss., and Mr. Walter Duminske, 797 Wheelock St., Detroit, Mich., are never without a bottle in their homes. They attribute their uniform good health to having it handy when needed. You will find it in every drug store. A dose costs about a cent.

There is no secret about the contents of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and you will find it stated on the package, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant aromatics, free from narcotics and opiates. It is just such a laxative as is ideally suited to families, safe for the young and effective for the old. Make up your mind to buy a bottle, and if for any reason whatever it does not come up to your expectations, your money will be refunded.

Free Sample Bottle Coupon

There are people who very rightly prefer to try a thing before they buy it. Let them clip this coupon, pin their name and address to it, and send it to the Pepsin Syrup Co., 518 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will be sent them postpaid by mail. BY HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—In desperate need of another game to get back into the running for the championship the Washington Senators drew up today for a last stand battle with the New York Giants in the fourth game of the word series.

Dropped twice in three games, and with much of their punch gone, the Senators were in serious straits. The Giants have the natural advantage of a two to one count in a short series and with Roger Peckinpaugh injured, the betting switched to 2 to 1, on the Giants.

Big Loss To Senators.

Peck the most dangerous hitter on the team and the mainstay of the defense, was hurt in the second game. He pulled a muscle in his leg in running out the double that won the game, and he had to quit yesterday.

There was doubt in the Washington quarters today that Peck would be able to play tomorrow. "You can't tell about those things. Peck is being treated and he may come around, but we can't count on him," Bucky Harris said.

Weather conditions today were again ideal and a crowd equalling yesterday's record number of 47,608 was expected at the Polo grounds.

Washington can't use Walter Johnson today because if he should be unable to stop the National league champions, the Senators would be as good as gone. With an advantage of one game the Giants can take a chance with Virgil Barnes, a young right hander who has plenty of good pitching in him when he is right.

Harris probably will ask George Mogridge, a veteran left hander, to work today with the hope that he can even the series. He could then send Walter Johnson back tomorrow.

Has Art Nehf in Reserve.

If Barnes gets away with his game today, however, the chances of another trip to Washington tomorrow night would be rather remote because McGraw would have Nehf left to headline his team in tomorrow's matinee.

It was generally agreed that the two games in Washington were two of the finest of any series but it was accepted unanimously that the third game was one of the worst. Certainly no worse pitching has ever been seen in a series. Yesterday's game had only one record to make it stand out at all. Bill Ryan hit a homer and became the first National league pitcher to get a four base hit in a world series.

Buck Harris pulled the break against—"Firpo" Marberry in the second that may have been the deciding factor in the game. He dropped a throw from Young Bluege in his eagerness to make a double play and Marberry blew up.

Frisch Robs Goose Goslin.

There were other breaks against the Senators and they were mostly Frank Frisch. The Giant champion second baseman dashed way back into center field for two catches off "Goose" Goslin that robbed the Washington slugger of two sure hits and he pulled another stop and throw that took another one from the Goose.

With Peck on the job thru the entire game, Washington might have won. Miller, who took his place in the batting order was up twice in the tightest of pinches and failed to deliver. The defensive strength of the infield is also greatly reduced with Peck out of the game.

Do You Golf and Are You Nervous?

If So, You Will Be Interested in What Dr. Lieb, Specialist, Says About the Game.

The ravages of golf on sub-normal neuro-circulatory mechanism of many valuable citizens may induce invalidism or untimely death, according to Dr. Clarence W. Lieb of New York city, writing in the September issue of the New York State Medical Journal. Dr. Lieb is a heart and intestinal specialist of note.

He points out that sudden death while playing golf is not unusual and bases his article upon a study made of twenty-seven persons who droped dead on golf courses.

Nothing Against Game.

Declaring that he has no grief against the game, Dr. Lieb says:

"Someone has said that 'we begin dying the moment we are born,' and perhaps he was right, for the rate of dying certainly rises in proportion to our years, and after fifty we are all dying rapidly.

"There are two general types of golfers in whom medical experts are interested, namely, the neurological and the cardiological type.

"If a vote were taken among neurologists as to whether or not golf is beneficial to nervous people, the majority would say it is, providing it does not make the patient more nervous," Dr. Lieb writes.

A nervous man is a pathetic figure when he starts to play golf, Dr. Lieb remarks. His nerves become more tense. A sliced ball results in irritability.

"His face reddens and expletives, audible and iaudible, vibrate from his vocal chords. If his bad shot happens to be on the fair green, instead of the tee, the poor caddy is accused of having moved or breathed, thus spoiling his concentration.

Business men, as a general rule, are slovenly golfers, and inasmuch as they hate slovenliness, they are beset with trials and tribulations from the first tee to the eighteenth green, the article states.

"Certainly there are temperaments for whom golf is contra-indicated. Only the other day, on a certain well-known course a certain members of our own protession (medical) permitted his eye to come into sudden contact with the fist of an irate senator, whose nerves were tuned to high G, while playing too conventional a game," the doctor said.

"Who knows but that this impulsive act cost the senator his nomination. Surely the phrase, golf hazard, is an apt one."

Over-exertion in many people brings immediate signs of physical decay. Swinging golf clubs with tremendous force brings too much strain upon flabby heart muscles. This should mean easy strokes, instead of vicious swings.

"Intermittent playing may do more harm than good. Regularity is a requisite to the best physical upbuilding. The number of holes played should conform to the individual's reaction. * * * Golf should be perscribed intelligently, as people differ greatly in their exercise tolerance."

Die From Over-Exertion.

Investigation of the twenty-seven deaths has proved to Dr. Lieb that all of the golfers died from some sort of over-exertion.

He concludes his article with a diagram showing the blood pressure during various courses of the game which includes a peak measure after paying $6 lost on a match.

Another peak is at :"Lost ball. Caddy at fault. Very irritable."

Just short of that peak is the pressure which comes to the heart after "Poor score, sore toe and sense of fullness over heart" (on sixteenth tee before driving).

Dr. Lieb also has a few remarks to make about bridge, but apparently even the most excitable bridge players need not worry. He says: "The writer has found the systolic pressure of individuals, during an exciting game of bridge, increased by 20 to 30 per cent, yet the number of natural deaths at bridge parties, as far as we know, is statistically negligible.

California Sub Makes Long Run

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—What University of Southern California coaches claim is a new record for long runs was established by Eddie Green, substitute Trojan quarterback, when he dashed 113 yards on one of the freakiest plays ever seen on a Pacific coast gridiron.

The incident happened in the last quarter of U. S. C.'s opening game of the season with Caltech. Green, taking the Engineer kickoff, which rolled fifteen yards behind the Trojan goal line, failed to touch the ball down. Neither the Caltech players or the other Trojans knew of Green's intention until he tore out in a mad sprint for the opponent's goal line. Two of Caltech's fastest men finally dragged him to earth on their own two-yard line. The play was made doubly freaky by the fact that Green in being tackled dropped the ball and Heilburn of Caltech ran the ball back to his own 45-yard line before he in turn was downed.

Green's performance of running 113 yards before he was tackled is greater than the existing record of 110 yards, established by G. S. McCaa of LaFayette in 1909.

GOLF LESSONS.

Is it a good practice to stab putts when greens are slow and rough?

Answered by WILLIAM MELHORN.

Western open champion, 1924. Holds lowest total score made by any professional competing in all of the last three National open championships.

To stab putts is bad practice on any kind of a green, especially on slow or rough greens. A putt hit with an overspin is always easier to control. On a rough green the putt with an overspin will keep its line better, tending to roll right over the bumps and keep a straight course; while a stab putt is hit with more of a cut and every bump it hits might make it kick further off the line. Try a more pendulum swing, hitting up at the ball.

Who Found Walter?

Now that Walter Johnson, ace of pitchers, has reached the goal he has sought for seventeen years pitching for a pennant-winning team, the old story of who really discovered him, when he twirled for a two-games-a-week team at Weiser, Idaho, bobs up again.

Scores have claimed the honor, traveling salesmen, actors, baseball scouts and just about every body but the real discoverer.

He was and is a newspaper man—Connie Miles, at present dramatic editor of the New York American.

Miles was then editor of a paper in Boise. He had seen young Johnson pitch game after game in which the opposing batsmen were satisfied if they got a foul off his slow ball, and were thankful they escaped with their lives when he whizzed over a fast one.

"Another Rusie, if there ever was one," was Miles's comment, after seeing him in a few games.

A ball players himself, Miles wrote to Hughey Jennings, then with Detroit, tipping him off as to Johnson. But Hughey in those days boasted of Donovan, Mullin and like stars and just couldn't find time to meander into the wilds to look at a busher.

So Miles tipped off another big leaguer, who, in turn, mentioned it to Joe Cantillon, then manager of the Washingtons. He sent a scout out to look over Walter and the rangy youngster was soon in a capital uniform. And for seventeen years he has worn no other.

And none will root harder for him to make the Senators world's champions than the man who discovered him—Connie Miles.

THREE MORE HOLES MADE IN ONE SHOT

Three more Antelope golfers have added their names to the hole-in-one list. L. J. Ulsek made No. 5 in one. It is a 135 yard hole. Ralph Scott and J. Warren made No. 9, the 46-yard pitch in one stroke.

BUCK HARRIS HAS ENORMOUS PROBLEM

How to Win a Ball Game Without Peckinpaugh and Johnson is Question Which is Bothering Manager.

BY FRANK GETTY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Up around the Alamac hotel, where the Washington ball club is staying, even the telephone girls are forbidden to use the "voice with a smile".

It was serious business this morning with the Nationals trailing one game to two for the Giants and young Bucky Harris puzzling over the problem of how to win a ball game without Walter Johnson and Roger Peckinpaugh.

The ball players themselves, showing up in the lobby, were rather blue about it and not inclined to joviality. It will be a grim and fighting lot that faces the Giants in the fourth game of the series this afternoon.

Peck Out of Series.

Roger Peckinpaugh, the doctor said this morning, almost certainly cannot play again in the series. His leg, hurt as he sprinted to first in Sunday's game at Washington, was packed in ice and everything possible was done. But the ligaments were badly torn.

Walter Johnson may have to pitch sooner than he feels like it, but the big blonde twirler was not ready for today's game except in event of great emergency.

Without these two Bucky Harris surveyed the wreck of the Senators and rubbed some neglected stubble on his chin reflectively.

"Losing Roger makes it hard for the whole infield," Bucky said, "because Bluege, who has been playing cracker jack ball at third, isn't as used to shortstop and naturally can't work in as smoothly on double plays. There was one instance of that yesterday when if we had had Peck at short we'd have got the side out."

"Goose" Goslin strolled disconsolately out of the elevator, refusing to read the morning papers. The first three he had glanced at told of Frankie Frisch's brilliant circus catches and what made the Goose madder than the proverbial wet hen was that all these circus catches were made off him.

All Pull for Senators.

There are nearly 10,000 rooters from Washington in town and out at the park there were 47,000 Washington rooters. The New York crowd never lost a chance to howl its head off for the Nationals and a couple of times started booing and rythmic hand clapping against Hugh McQuillan when the Giant twirler was weakening.

Buck Harris still has three pitchers he hasn't tried—Mogridge, Zahniser and Al Schadt. Everyone of the others has figured in the new Senatorial double play, bull pen to box to bench. None has pitched a full game.

The Giants celebrated last night as tho they already had their third world's championship of four years. They spoke of themselves as 2 to 1 shots and predicted they would beat Walter Johnson again. But the scandal still lurks around the corner.

"Send in O'Connell" some fan would scream from the grandstand and "Let Cozy Dolan coach," another would reply. Then the joke would be forgotten in the excitement of the ball game.

The funniest joke at the third game, however, was Mayor Hylan's one man parade and ball throwing act. Just before the game, the band was ordered out to center field and came booming back across the filed, followed by the mayor himself, bowing to right and left, beneath a New York city banner held over his head by a policeman.

When Hylan reached his box, he posed for the customary picture, apparently in the act of throwing out the first ball. He even threw it, two or three times, to movie men, while they cranked and directed him. But as for the ball players, they just started the game when they got ready, Bill Dineen growling "play ball" without even glancing at the mayor's box. Hylan still has the ball, waiting to throw it to some one.

FORWARD PASSING SAVES ZUP'S TEAM

And Same Sort of Game Wins for Missouri Over Chicago and Keeps Ames in Running With Wisconsin.

Forward passing formed a mighty important part of last week's games, according to Walter Eckersall, who refereed the Illinois-Nebraska game here. He says, writing in the Chicago Tribune, that it was all that saved Zup's eleven from defeat as the Cornhuskers were superior with straight tactics.

It was Missouri's ability to pass that gave it a 3 to 0 victory over Chicago and the overhead game helped Ames hold Wisconsin 0-0 in the first half. But more important than all of it was the apparent lack of a defense for this sort of game on the part of the losing elevens. Eckersall believes too much early season attention was turned on the offense rather than defensive tactics, admitting that with so short a time to prepare the coaches had to choose between one or the other.

Why "Red" Did Not Go.

Explaining Grange's inability to get away Eckersall says:

"Still another point was driven home and one which has been harped upon for years and that is the best back in the world cannot run behind a weak line. In the Illinois-Nebraska game, Harold "Red" Grange, unquestionably one of the best ball carriers in the country, was tackled behind the scrimmage line on most of his ground gaining attempts. The Cornhusker linemen, aided in some cases by the secondary defense, nailed the Illinois star before he could swing into his stride. As soon, however, as Illinois opened up with forward passes and drove the Nebraska secondary defense back, Grange showed flashes of last year's form."

Of the brand of game which Nebraska put up against the Illini, Eckersall says:

"Nebraska played a wonderful game against Illinois and is deserving of a lot of credit, altho defeated 9 to 6. The Cornhusker line outplayed the Orange and Blue forwards and if it had not been for Illinois' forward passing game Nebraska would have won as it was clearly the master in the straight attack. Illinois, however, failed to show the right characteristic of Zuppke elevens and it will be a far different team when Michigan is met at Champaign on October 18. The Illinois mentor is making an excellent running forward passer out of Grange and his new capacity will make him an even more dangerous player this fall."

Huskers Take It Easy.

Monday evening found the Husker 'varsity taking a breathing spell while the second string 'varsity was sent at the freshmen. The frosh were using Oklahoma formations as shown them by Owen Frank who watched the Central Teachers beat the Sooners 2 to 0 Saturday. It was the first defeat which the Teachers, with an enrollment of 300 students, have inflicted upon the university in eighteen years of competition.

Word from the Journal's correspondent at Norman states that Monday evening was devoted to fundamentals altogether, as a result of the outcome Saturday. Slough, faster and lighter but lacking in experience begins calling the signals as a result of the shakeup. More changes are anticipated in the lineup which will go against the Huskers.

Coach Frank brought back the word that a shift play fashioned after the old Minnesota shift had seemed to demoralize the Sooners and resulted in many fumbles.

This shift, according to the Journal's correspondent, is certain to be abandoned.

Coach Frank stated that Ben Owen appears to have an excellent bunch of material with which to work and that the sting of last year's defeat may bring the squad into the exact fettle.

Played Four Times Before.

Oklahoma and Nebraska have played four previous games. While the Sooners have never been able to win from the Huskers they got a tie in 1919 at 7-7. Scores of previous games:

1912—Nebraska 13, Oklahoma 9.
1919—Nebraska 7, Oklahoma 7.
1922—Nebraska 39, Oklahoma 7.
1923—Nebraska 24, Oklahoma 0.

LATE NEWS OF YESTERDAY

TO HOLD INQUEST OVER BELDEN BOY

Death of Lad From Gunshot Wound Last Saturday Will Be Investigated—His Companion Jailed.

CRETE, Neb., Oct. 6.—A coroner's inquest will be held at Wilber at 9 a. m. Tuesday over the death of Harold Belden, sixteen, which resulted from a gunshot wound sustained last Saturday while the boy was out hunting north of here with four companions. Robert Lutz, whose shotgun, it is alleged, was accidentally discharged causing the fatal wounding of young Belden, was taken to Wilber Sunday by County Sheriff Greer, of Saline county. Young Lutz was lodged in jail and will probably be turned over to juvenile authorities.

County Attorney Mekota has been investigating the case and is impanneling a jury for the inquest. It is said that considerable feeling has developed among Crete residents over the tragedy. H. J. Belden, father of the victim, says that he does not want to push an investigation. "It was supposedly an accident," he said. "It is done and can't be undone."

Funeral services for the victim were held Monday afternoon at the Methodist church here. Rev. McKenzie had charge of the services.

Young Belden was shot in the left breast and died at 1:20 p. m. Saturday or about two hours later at St. Elizabeth's hospital. Robert Lutz pointed the gun at the victim and yelled jokingly, "I'm going to shoot you," said Johnny Parilek, one of the boys who witnessed the tragedy. Young Lutz said he did not know the gun was loaded.

BODY OF BABY IS FOUND

Prematurely Born Child in Basket at City Library.

The body of a prematurely born baby, was found by the police Monday evening, in a waste-paper basket at the city library, upon investigation following the receipt of a telephone call, from a woman who declared that she had seen the body there. The woman refused to give her name and the police are without a clue as to her identity.

The body had been wrapped in tissue paper and thrust into a sack. It was taken to the police station and the county authorities notified, but investigation failed to reveal more than the fact that a woman had called the police from the telephone at the library and then hastily departed.

According to one of the clerks at the library, the woman came to the desk and asked to use the telephone saying that she wanted to call the police. She also stated that she was the proprietor of a rooming house, and that some of the girls who room with her had stopped at the library on their way home, and had seen the body in the basket. They had hurried home and told her about it, she told the clerk, and she had come down to see for herself. She called the station and then refused to wait until officers arrived. The clerk did not know the woman and said that she had never seen her before.

According to the authorities, it was impossible to tell exactly how long since the body had been born. The body was turned over to Dr. R. H. Sawyer, county physician.

GROSS SENTENCED TO JAIL

Gets Four Months Imprisonment as Second Time Offender of Liquor Law.

One hundred and twenty days in the county jail was the sentence imposed upon John J. Gross, second time hooch offender, when he appeared in Justice Hawes' court Monday afternoon on a two count charge of possession and transportation of liquor. James Lottridge who was arrested with Gross, was arraigned on a like charge and fined $200 and costs. He did not pay the fine and was taken to the county jail.

Gross and Lottridge were arrested late Sunday afternoon as they alighted from a Rock Island freight train from Omaha near Seventeenth and Y streets. Three gallons of hooch were seized. The men were lodged at the city jail. Both men pleaded guilty when arraigned in court. Gross was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail on each of the two counts held against him.

MAN BADLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Robert Welsch, Passenger in Alleged Rum Car, Probably Fatally Injured While Officers Chase Car.

Two men, giving their names as Jack Engman and Clark, are in jail at North Platte, and Robert Welsch a third passenger in the automobile which turned over four miles west of Maxwell on Sunday, is in hospital at North Platte suffering three broken ribs and possibly a broken neck, according to a telegram received Monday by State Sheriff Tom Carroll from State Officer Fred Benton.

One-half gallon of clear "moonshine" liquor was found near the overturned automobile, according to Benton's report. The three men, it is said, speeded up when the state officer ordered them to stop, after his suspicions had been aroused by the manner in which the car was being driven. Benton set out in a pursuit which ended when Engman, driving, lost control and his car overturned, injuring Welsch so seriously that he is not expected to recover.

TWO HURT IN ACCIDENTS

M. L. McFadden and Miss Freda Kruse of Gage County Struck by Automobiles.

BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 6.—M. L. McFarren, aged seventy-two, and Miss Freda Kruse, both residents of Beatrice, were victims of automobile accidents Sunday. Mr. McFarren, an old Gage county resident, was struck by a car as he was crossing the street. He suffered a broken arm and was badly bruised about the body. It is believed he will recover. Miss Kruse was thrown from a car on the Goldenrod highway near Ellis when the car skidded and ran into a ditch. She was injured about the head and body. Other occupants of the car escaped with slight scratches.

CANNOT RUN OVER CURB

Cowgill Calls Attention to Ordinance Which Forbids.

Drivers of coal wagons are forbidden by city ordinance to drive over curbs, even when planks or blocks are laid as run-ways, and they will be prosecuted in police court if detected, Commissioner Cowgill declared Monday.

SOLICIT OPINIONS ON STORM SEWER

Cost of Project On P Street From Twentieth to Twenty-third May Be Too High for Property Benefited.

Construction of a storm sewer to drain rain water from P street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second, Twenty-first street between O and P streets, and Twenty-second between O and P streets, is receiving serious consideration by city officials. When the proposal was submitted for discussion by the city council Monday members of the board decided to sound out the sentiment of property owners in the district to be benefitted and decide the matter at the meeting next Monday.

Property owners have petitioned for the paving of North and South streets intersecting P street in that district, but City Engineer Erickson reported that if paving is constructed with out a storm sewer to drain the district the grade of the streets will cause water to collect between Twentieth and Twenty-first on P street, and on Twenty-first and Twenty second between O and P streets. A storm sewer of the kind which will be required will cost approximately $8,000 or $182 for each frontage of fifty feet.

The cost of the project is the chief obstacle in the opinion of officials who agreed that the improvement is much needed. The sewer would drain east to Twenty-third street.

BUTLER'S PETITION SHORT

Lacks Sufficient Names and Has Filed No Acceptance to Nomination by Petition.

Secretary of State Pool has taken no action on the petition filed by Dan B. Butler's friends last Saturday. The petition asks that Butler's name be placed on the general election ballot as a candidate for governor by "petition," with no political party designation.

Mr. Butler has not complied with that part of the law requiring an acceptance of nomination, nor has he declined progressive nomination. He is already the progressive party candidate for governor. The petition should contain 1,000 names. The Butler petition contains only 773 names which appear to the secretary of state to be in legal form, with postoffice address. There are 648 names with no postoffice, making a total of 1,420 names.

Mr. Ledwith discussed the lack of charity in the world in regard to personal opinions and freedom of worship. He touched upon the lack of charity of the political parties and politicians in the present campaign. The following officers were installed: A. J. Riley, faithful navigator; James Trumble, admiral; Col. Frank W. Kidwell, captain; A. L. Bechter, pilot; F. R. Grace, comptroller; John Trumble, outside sentinel, and Homer W. Gray, inside sentinel.

For several years she has been engaged in musical work in New York. Mr. Siegel is a violinist and coach in voice and piano. Miss Miller studied with him for a year.

The autumn opening dance of the Hokcmok dancing club was held at the Lincoln hotel Monday evening. The ballroom was transformed into an autumn woodland scene with the use of colored leaves and vines twined about the wall lights, and with autumn wild flowers and berries combined with vines hanging in clusters from the ceiling. The favors were also suggestive of the fall season. The committee which had charge of the party was composed of Dr. and Mrs. David C. Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strader, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Skiles, and Dr. and Mrs. Carl J. Norden.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Bratt and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Williams brought together a company of eighty friends at the Country club Monday evening for a delightful autumn dinner dance at 7 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Wake of Seward were the only out of town guests. Places were arranged at two long tables, on which a motif of pink and lavender was followed for the decorations. Baskets filled with pink roses were alternated with tapers in silver holders along the length of the tables.

Mrs. George Schwake states that the "Mrs. Verne Bates" mentioned in a State Journal item Monday morning as having been injured in an automobile accident, is not her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Bates. Mrs. Bates of Broken Bow is not connected with the former regent's family.

Cloudy teeth—dull teeth

How to make them whiter—quickly

The new way world's dental authorities advise. What to do

THOSE whiter teeth that you envy. Don't think they are beyond you. You can now lighten dull and dingy teeth—make them gleam and glisten.

Modern science has discovered a new way. A method different in formula, action and effect from any you have ever used. This offers you a test. Simply use the coupon; it brings free a 10-day tube.

Look for film on your teeth—that's the cause. How to combat it

Look at your teeth. If dull, cloudy, run your tongue across them. You will feel a film. That's the cause of the trouble. You must fight it.

Film is that viscous coat which you feel. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It hides the natural luster of your teeth.

It also holds food substance which ferments and causes acid. In contact with teeth, this acid invites decay. Millions of germs breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So dingy teeth mean more than loss of good appearance. They may indicate danger, grave danger to your teeth.

New methods now that mean greater tooth beauty plus better protection from tooth troubles

Ordinary tooth pastes were unable to cope adequately with that film. Not one could effectively combat it. Harsh grit tended to injure the enamel. Soap and chalk were inadequate.

Now modern dental science has found new combatants. Their action is to curdle film and then harmlessly remove it. They are embodied in a new-type tooth paste called Pepsodent—a scientific method that is changing the tooth cleaning habits of some 50 different nations.

Don't you think it worth while to try it for 10 days; then to note results yourself?

The Plans Dicky Unfolded to Madge.

I HAD scored decisively in the little game of wits between Dicky and me, a game I do not think my husband realized he was playing. But I knew that my prompt acquiescence to his carelessly uttered proposal to scatter the household for a while because he thought we were getting on each other's nerves, had piqued him. It would take very little management on my part for him to abandon his proposal, at least as far as he and I were concerned.

But my pride not only prevented me from lifting the traditional finger to change his mind, but marshalled all my energies to the bolstering of his project. I would give him no chance to retreat, I told myself a trifle grimly, as I schooled my voice to put a query which should sound at once interested and nonchalant.

"Have you made any plans?" I asked.

Dicky bent an inscrutable pair of eyes upon my face for a flashing second.

"Sometimes I don't get you at all," he said enigmatically.

My pulses bounded with that most exhilarating of all sensations to a woman—the realization that she is puzzling her own particular man. I did not answer him save with a cryptic little smile, and with a shrug of his shoulders he plunged into the details of a plan which I guessed had suddenly become distasteful to him.

"I'll go to the studio, of course," he began, and with the words he was revenged, although I flatter myself no change in my facial expression betrayed the sudden drop of my mental barometer.

"I know your work is piling up," I said with quick assent, "but are you sure you'll be comfortable there?"—this last with the correct air of wifely solicitude.

"All the comforts of home, and some that home never saw!" he returned with a sardonic little quirk of his lips. "Don't strain yourself worrying over me. I'll be all right, and perhaps I'll have a fighting chance for my life against those wolves of art editors snapping at the back of the sleigh. I've thrown everything edible to them except the baby, and he's in danger. And Alf's the worst of the lot, blast his ornery hide!"

"What's Eating Leila?"

Experience of Dicky's extravagant speech made me take this diatribe calmly, especially as I read beneath his words the secret gratification which was his at having his work so much in demand. But the mention of Alfred Durkee's name gave me a chance to inject a new note into our colloquy.

"Alf?" I repeated interestedly. "How are all the Durkee's?"

"That's just what I was going to tell you," he retorted. "Alf's all broken up, and I rise to remark that if I were in his place I'd treat that spouse of his to a good—"

"Oh no, you wouldn't!" I interrupted serenely. "You'd do exactly as he is doing—make the best of things."

"You don't know me, woman," Dicky burlesqued, "but thank all the little gods you didn't have any ancestral Southern home over which you yearned with such fervent yearns that nothing would do you but having Junior breathe his first breath within its sacred walls. What's eating Leila anyway? She wasn't born there. Her birthplace was sold under the hammer before she and Ede came to New York."

Dicky's Surprise.

"But her mother was," I returned, "and her mother's people for generations back. And Leila spent half of her childhood there. I can understand how she wants to go there just now with Aunt Dora Paige to see to things."

"Oh I suppose so!" Dicky agreed, "but it's mighty tough on Alf just the same. He can't leave the office these days for any length of time, and he's so anxious about Leila he's nearly crazy."

"I imagine he'll survive," I said dryly, quickly adding: "Who's going with Leila?"

"Regular hard-boiled little cynic, aren't you?" Dicky quizzed. "Of course you'll hold that little episode of Bess Dean against the poor lad for the rest of his natural life."

"Nothing of the kind," I retorted, although I knew that I never had quite forgiven Alfred Durkee for the short-sightedness which had permitted Bess Dean to make gentle Leila so unhappy. "But—men have died and worms have eaten them, but not for love,' you know."

"I don't notice any of your modern women pining away, either, old dear," and again there was the elusive and gratifying note of pique in his voice. "But all this isn't answering your question. Of course Ede's going down with Leila, and the only other member of her entourage will be——" he pauses dramatically— "your august mother-in-law."

NEWS from Berlin!

Marvelous news.

"It ain't gwine to rain no mo'"—I mean, "we ain't gwine to starve no mo'"—not to get thin, anyhow.

The German doctors have found a thinning serum, and now if a nice, comfortable German hausfrau feels herself getting a teeny-weeny mite too heavy for beauty—just a leetle broader than the popular model of Germania—does she cut down on her food?

Starve herself for two days and ever after limit herself to a diet of zweiback, pretzels and cold water?

Does she forget beer, turn her back on strawberry soup and shudder at the very name of potatoes, even if they are beautifully cooked with cinnamon and allspice and nutmeg after the most delicious German recipe in the world?

A Boon to the Stout

No more kalbfleisch, rich in luscious gravy; no more ganzbrust—thick with vitamines! And as for puddings and coffeecakes, thick with sugar and cinnamon, or even strudel made with apples and plenty of cinnamon—away with them!

Does the German lady of fashion, who wants to be in the very latest mode, starve herself into melancholia and snap the heads off her children and her family because she's too hungry to be amiable?

No more—never, never no mo'!

She just goes to the best doctor in town and takes a serum—and there you are—as slim as a rake, as slender as a willow wand, as happy as a May morning and as good natured as a healthy baby!

What news—almost we forgive them, the so-famous war.

And to think that a discovery of such magnitude along such a line should come not from France, where beauty is almost a religion, but from Germany, where food is something a good deal like a deity!

Just think of it, sisters—no more calories and proteins and vitamines—honestly now, what would you give, every one of you, to sit down this minute to a perfectly good luncheon, beginning with an alligator pear salad, just chilled enough and not too much—go on to a rare steak loaded with mushrooms and a stuffed tomato and a big mound of mashed potato, and then end up with a strawberry shortcake heaped high with well-sugared berries and smothered in blobs of rich cream!

Rather toppin', eh, what?

Or, say—fried chicken and fixin's with a dozen or so old-fashioned Southern biscuit with plenty of butter and homemade apple pie with cream cheese as a little, delicate afterthought.

Deviled crab, for example, and some artichokes with plenty of mayonnaise and all the hot Parker House rolls you could manage—that wouldn't be bad, would it?

And you smiling every time you thought that not one morsel of all those calories and vitamines and things meant a thing on earth to you but something good to eat—and that's all!

Talk about the downfall of the family and the wiping out of hospitality and the fading away of the old regime of real life in a real home—I wonder if the motion pictures and the jazz music are really the only elements that have helped to make this change?

If It's Only True!

What fun is there in asking anyone to draw up to the fire and have a cup of tea when you well know that the askee hates you with a deadly hatred for putting temptation in her way?

What's the joy of planning a house party when you can't have anything to eat but bran and sawdust and a drop or so of beef tea?

Don't you love to see a table loaded down in the old-fashioned way, with a baked ham jeweled with cloves at one end; a turkey, brown and appetizing, at the other; a nice, big baking dish of scalloped oysters in the middle, and all the celery and cranberry sauce and mince pie and pumpkin pie in the world—more or less?

Gone—all gone! We must mortify the flesh, put away the good things and eat and grow thin—to suit the mode of the day.

They say we'll live longer and do more good and be clearer headed and more energetic than our grandmothers were—just because we don't eat ourselves to death—but, somehow, I wonder if five or ten years snatched at the expense of a good deal of the joy of living are really worth the candle?

Three times three for the German doctors! Let's get up a subscription, girls, and subsidize the best man in Berlin to come over here with a dozen trunks full of serum.

I wonder if we couldn't cable and get him started so that he'd be here in time for Thanksgiving.

Diary of a Fashion Model

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

She Describes a Gorgeous Evening Wrap.

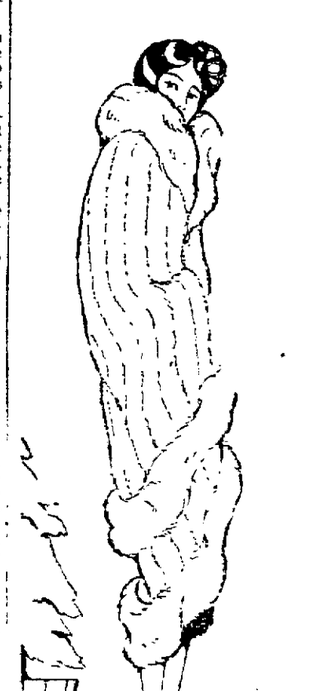

MADAME usually has a number of gorgeous evening wraps to show to her favorite customers.

"I don't have much time to go in for fur wrap designing," Madame explained to a select customer who came in. "But I have a few models I will show you."

Most of Madame's wraps for evening are in gorgeous velvets and brocades with fur trimming. She has some all fur wraps, however, and to-day she went upstairs for the loveliest one of them.

"Tell Gaby to model the ermine evening wrap with white fox trimming," Madame said.

This wrap had been made just to suit Gaby's slender figure, and she does look like a million dollars in it.

White Fox Trims This Ermine Cape.

I had the message delivered, and soon Gaby came wending her way down the stairs.

She had been trying on evening frocks just before, and still wore a big amber pin in the back of her hair. This pin was almost all one could see of Gaby, for she had the lovely coat wrapped well up about her smooth coiffure.

"What a gorgeous thing!" the pretty young client exclaimed when she saw Gaby in the wrap.

It was a straightline affair of the softest white ermine, with a white fox collar and a band of white fox at the bottom and another just above it.

"Just the kind of thing I've dreamed of owning," the client said aloud.

Gaby advanced toward her and threw the wrap back from her shoulders to reveal the lining.

One could see that it was all of white chiffon posed in shirred effect over white satin, with horizontal bands of silver lace to hold the rows of shirring in place.

"This is much the type of wrap I like to have my clients wear to the Opera," Madame explained.

"I plan to be at the Opera in New York some this Winter, and I may go abroad after Christmas, so this would be exactly the thing I'd need," the pretty young client said.

Madame assured her that nothing could be lovelier to wear to the Paris Opera.

The young client asked if she might bring her husband in to see the wrap, as she would like to have his approval before she chose so expensive a garment.

Madame agreed to that in her easy, gracious manner, and then she and the client fell to discussing evening gowns and other things.

Before the client left she bought a white fringed evening gown to wear beneath the wrap, for she felt sure her husband would approve when he came to view the lovely ermine affair next day.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8.

Conflicting forces dominate on this day, according to the sidereal operations. While there is prospect of opportunity for beneficial change, removal or journey, yet the cause may be rashly disposed or impulsive—which would invite disaster. Also the mind may be inclined to be morose, sullen or perhaps studious, with an inclination to worry over trifles. However, there is the promise of encouragement and assistance from good friends or advisors of power.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of advantageous change or travel, if they will but suppress rash and impulsive tendencies and refrain from petty worries. They may count on the assistance and wise counsel of good and powerful friends. Sign rapers cautious and beware of fraud.

A child born on this day, although destined to be rash and headstrong, will rise in life to good position and enjoy the benefits of the interest and counsel of kindly and well-disposed friends.

YOUR HEALTH

Why Science Holds Out New Hope for the Insane

By ROYAL S. COPLAND, M. D.,
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND.

THERE have been many controversies over insanity. Many times I am asked whether it is more prevalent in the cities or in the country. Is it more common in mental workers than in those who use their hands?

The New York State Hospital Commission has just compiled a report relating to the insane situation in that State for a period of five years. In this Dr. Horatio N. Pollock, the statistician, has presented some very valuable information.

The last census shows that out of every hundred thousand of the population, there are sixty-nine insane persons in the cities and only forty-five in the rural districts.

Speaking of the prevalent idea that farmers' wives are peculiarly liable to insanity, Dr. Pollock says:

"I have sought in vain for the origin of that tradition and for its basis of fact. We now know that farmers' wives are conspicuously free from mental disease, more so even than farmers."

He thinks the rush and whirl of modern life have much to do with the increase of insanity in the cities. Dr. Pollock calls attention to the peace and quiet of the rural communities, pointing out that country people lead more normal lives, having more sleep and being less disturbed by the hurry and worry of life.

"Mental disease declines in times of prosperity and increases in times of adversity," said Dr. Pollock. "As the tendency in this country is toward general stabilized prosperity with shorter working days, better conditions of employment and higher standards of living, the outlook for mental health is good."

Of course there are many factors entering into the production of insanity. Dr. Pollock has considered some and doubtless study of the complete report would reveal his discussion of others.

Insanity is essentially an affliction of mature life. It comes on after the age of twenty-five. In this respect it coincides with the degenerative diseases and other conditions of adult life.

I am inclined to believe that no study of an individual case of insanity is complete until the entire body has been searched for resistance-lowering conditions. Those in the fore-front of the battle against mental disease are holding out the expectation of recovery in cases which were formerly regarded as hopeless.

There can be no doubt that sane living, good food, recreation, entertainment and happy surroundings are essential to mental health. Freedom from physical disease is likewise necessary.

With universal observance of the rules of hygiene, insanity is sure to decrease.

Answers to Health Questions

MRS. R. T. P. Q.—About six weeks ago I washed my face in rain water and since then the pores are very large and hair has grown on my face, my complexion is darker and the skin seems to pull. Do you believe the water has caused this trouble?

A.—No. I do not believe that the rain water would cause this trouble. Try using a good cold cream each night before retiring and allow it to remain on over night.

* * *

R. S. V. Q.—How can I make my eyebrows thicker and darker? 2.—How can I remove blackheads?

A.—One per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment applied to the eyebrows each night, will help to increase their growth and make them darker.

2.—For full particulars on the treatment of blackheads send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and restate your question.

* * *

G. W. M. Q.—Will a blood test show whether two people are related?

A.—Not in the present stage of scientific knowledge.

B. M. Q.—Will massaging the face each night with sweet cream help to make it plump?

A.—Sweet cream will probably help to make the face plump. Cold cream applied to the face each night, may also help.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it cannot be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. HOME-MAKING HELPS

"Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home"

By WANDA BARTON

What Invention Offers in New Kitchen Helpers.

INVENTORS and manufacturers are striving in every way to make work easier for the housewife by bringing out friendly conveniences for her approval almost weekly. There are many sorts of washing-machines and dishwashers that are helpful in kitchens equipped for their reception.

One of the simplest dishwashers has a soap container above the hose attached to the hot water faucet which gives a stream of soapy water on the dishes stacked in the wire drainer below and a deft turn of the indicator shuts off the soap and leaves a stream of clear hot water that rinses the dishes thoroughly. Simple to operate, effective, and inexpensive compared to the more elaborate outfits. There are three or four attachments of brushes for pots and pans. Women who are business or professional workers want to keep their hands in good condition, so appreciate not having to put them into strong suds water to do the dish washing, though a large percentage prefer doing their own cooking to eating at restaurants.

In homes where there is no electricity women are finding the vacuum-carpet-sweeper a valuable first aid in cleaning. It works just like the old carpet-sweeper, though it carries a dust bag on its handle and like the electric vacuum and its suction power is very strong so that it does excellent work. The device is as easily run as a carpet sweeper and is durable and inexpensive compared to the more elaborate ones using electricity. The woman who uses a carpet-sweeper will find this cleaner a progressive step.

All of us who cook by gas are glad to know of the things that make gas-saving possible. Many of us now use the fitted saucepans, three cooking on one burner, and now comes a bake-pot that goes the old Dutch oven one better. The pot is placed over one hole and potatoes and biscuit may be baked at the same time successfully and layers for cake and meat may be cooked at the same time, the flavors not being contaminated in any way. This fact is due to the system of ventilation in the construction of this masterly cooker.

We all know what it means to light the oven to cook a couple of baked potatoes or a small pudding and it does not take long to see the advantage there is in using the baking pot over one hole. The pot soon pays for itself and is one of the conveniences we cannot afford to overlook.

Women who have not met the standing broiler for gas stove use have missed making a valuable acquaintance. Remedy the oversight at your earliest opportunity and enjoy steaks broiled over one hole, so they are easily watched and cooked at a quarter the expense in fuel. The broiler is covered on either side, has a long drip cup to catch the juices, and a stout broiler that is upstanding, may be turned if desired, and cooks the meat perfectly, much more evenly than it cooks in the regular broiler under the gas oven.

All medical men are in harmony on the question of the superiority of broiled foods and even laymen balk at a fried steak, or one that is burned on the outside and half raw in the center, a condition that frequently exists if the usual gas broiler is not watched and regulated by an expert cook.

In families where a great deal of lettuce is used, the daily salad being a dinner feature, should know the comfort of the salad basket. This is a globe like wire affair which the lettuce leaves are put into by opening the small door, then it is immersed in cold water, or is placed under running water until the lettuce is well washed. It is then allowed to drain and may be shaken free of all water, then set right in the ice box, until the salad is needed.

The basket comes in improved form which allows it to fold when not in use thus requiring very little storage space. Not only lettuce but spinach and other green stuffs may be washed in the basket easily and quickly thus making it a real kitchen labor-saver and comfort, that is moderate in price and durable.

Brief Stories of the Men and Women Who Led the Way

How William Murdock "Turned Night Into Day."

WILLIAM MURDOCK was the first man to turn night into day. The yellow gleam of the gas-light was a poor thing compared to the brilliant electric light of the present. But from the weak, flickering and rapidly consumed candle to the steady, comparatively bright gas was a step of tremendous importance to modern civilization.

Murdock, like Watt, inventor of the steam engine, was a Scotchman, born in Ayshire in 1754. His father was a millwright and he followed the same trade. At the age of twenty-three he obtained work in the steam-engine factory of Boulton and Watt in Birmingham, known as the Soho works.

After two years he was sent by the firm to Cornwall to set up some engines at the coal mines. While doing this work he became acquainted with the properties of coal gas. It was known that this gas was inflammable; in fact, many mine disasters had been caused by burning gas.

Murdock began to wonder if it would not be possible to confine this gas in a tank, run it through tubes and burn a tiny stream of it to give light. He tried it out for some time and in 1792 he had a little plant which illuminated his cottage and offices. The peasantry were amazed and they gave the cottage a wide berth, expecting the gas to explode and blow the place up. Nothing of the sort happened. Murdock had made one of the greatest of discoveries.

Murdock Achieved Success.

There were a lot of difficulties in the way of storing and purifying the gas and he had his hoing to make. So it was not until 1802 that he had his system perfected. Peace had been made with Napoleon, after many years of war. To celebrate it a portion of the exterior of the Soho factory was illuminated with the Murdock gas.

The progress of the new illumination was rapid. A company was formed which, in 1807, lighted Pall Mall, London. A disastrous explosion caused the public to lose confidence in gas, but three years later the House of Parliament was lighted with it.

By 1820 London, New York, Boston and Baltimore and Philadelphia were lighted with gas. It was supreme as an illuminant for more than half a century, and even now it is used largely both for heating and illuminating despite the more brilliant qualities of electricity.

Good Night Stories

DAVID MEETS AND CHATS WITH THE CAT-BIRD FAMILY.

"MY, but isn't that Cat-bird a funny thing," David mused as he watched the gray bird slicking out his pretty feathers. "I've never had a real good look at one before."

"No time like the present," laughed a merry voice and Squeedee, the wee elfin from Joyland hopped down at David's feet. "Come on down here and join us Daddy Cat-bird. David wants to see you."

"Oh Squeedee, I'm so glad," began David when Daddy Cat-bird uttered a queer noise. "Oh, please don't let him fly away before I see him."

"Certainly not," laughed Squeedee. "Come on, David is one of the best friends you have. He put that little water dish out in the yard for you."

"Yes, and I put the dish of bread out for you birds, too," David said. "I wouldn't harm one feather on your pretty black head. I love that black hat you wear. It goes well with your gray suit."

"I'm glad you like it," and Daddy Cat-bird flew down beside Squeedee. "Thanks for the dish of food and the water. You know we Cat-birds eat so much from your gardens, I just thought maybe you wanted to——"

"Gracious no," laughed the elfin.

"We Try to Pay."

"David knows you Cat-birds are the best friends his Daddy has. Cat-birds do take a strawberry or a cherry as they pass, but they eat up enough insects in a season, to be entitled to a dish of strawberries or a pocket of cherries, I think."

"We try to pay for what we eat," chirped Daddy Cat-bird. "But if I don't get back home, my wife will think some farmer's cat has me."

"Have you ever seen my family, David? Come on home with me. She'll be glad to know you are a friend of ours. So many of the school boys fire stones at us when they see us sitting on the fence rails."

David accepted the invitation and he and Squeedee followed Daddy Cat-bird over to the tangled bushes along the side of the dusty road.

There in a dear little nest lined with soft grasses sat Mama Cat-bird and her five little baby cat-birds.

It was funny, but when David approached the nest a terrible cry went up from all the neighboring cat-birds and they wouldn't be quiet until Daddy Cat-bird called to them and assured them David was his guest.

"Isn't that funny," David laughed after the noise had subsided. "What made them do that?"

"We all help protect the others around in this part of the woods," replied Daddy Cat-bird.

"And that isn't the only thing we do for each other," chirped Mama Cat-bird. "If anything should happen to one of our neighbors, I would open my home to their babies and take them in as my own and feed and care for them. My neighbors would do the same for my youngsters should Daddy and I have any accident."

"That certainly is lovely," said David smoothing one of the baby birds with his finger.

"We must go now Squeedee, for I have some errands for mother, but with Squeedee's help we're going to see that nothing happens to any of you or your neighbors," and bidding his new friends goodby, David ran on home.

LATE NEWS OF YESTERDAY

VETERANS AT BIG DINNER

BURLINGTON ASSOCIATION LISTENS TO PRESIDENT HOLDEN.

Long Time Employes of the Company Warned of the Dangers to Employes From Government Ownership.

President Hale Holden of the Burlington railroad, in an address made to veterans of the system at the Lincoln chamber of commerce Monday evening, warned members of the association that the dangers of government ownership did not threaten the owners of the road, but that the evils of such a system would be visited upon the employes and upon the taxpayers and transportation buyers of the country. Rivers and harbors improvements would take a place far down the list as a pork barrel measure, should government ownership become a fact.

The dinner came as the close of the annual convention of the Burlington Veterans' association at which delegates from eight states thru which the road runs were present. The dinner was attended by five hundred people and the large dining room at the chamber's building was crowded to capacity.

M. Schirk, Havelock, was reelected president of the Veterans' association at the Havelock business meeting. Over a hundred veterans attended the convention. Eight states were represented. Other officers elected were: Vice president R. G. Knowles, McCook; secretary, H. B. Kepner, Havelock; treasurer, H. C. Niebur, Havelock; trustees, F. F. McCoy, Havelock; Gus Collins, Havelock; Peter Hansen, Havelock.

In the afternoon the veterans were taken for a sight-seeing trip thru Lincoln.

Thiehoff Toastmaster.

W. F. Thiehoff, general manager of the lines east, was toastmaster. The program at the dinner was opened by the singing of America. Dr. C. F. Ballard gave the invocation. Mayor Zehrung welcomed the Burlington men in his characteristic manner. He said he had hoped to be able while mayor to accept on behalf of the city from the Burlington railroad a magnificent new depot.

He feared now he might not hold office long enough but he now entertained the hope that there might be some younger people present who when they become veterans years hence can recall when President Holden started the work on the new Lincoln Burlington station.

President Schirk, recalling that this is the fourth anniversary of the association in his annual address, said three dozen members drew up the constitution and bylaws four years ago. One year later the association had 350 members. A year later the roll showed 900 members. In September, 1923 the membership had grown to about 1400 and today the membership is near 2,000. A greater growth is looked for. Branches have been organized at Plattsmouth, Creston, West Burlington, Aurora and Sheridan.

"Friendly relations are being cultivated between employes and patrons of the road," he said, "while the united efforts of old and young are made for the development of one of the greatest and most successful railroad systems in the world."

To Form Branches.

Mr. Schirk said that soon thriving branches of the association would be organized at every division point on the road.

Mrs. W. F. Ackerman, wife of Superintendent Ackerman at Havelock, gave a piano solo, "Tarantelle," and responded to encores. Nine o'clock having arrived Mr. Holden delivered his address, which was broadcast thru the Hastings station KFKX.

Mr. Holden's address dwelt with the value of such an organization to the railroad and to its members and with the history of the road for which he and the veterans work; with the economical situation of the present, the danger of government ownership to employe and to the public, and of the necessity of maintaining American ideals.

He closed by eulogizing the railroad and the men who had made it what it is and who are keeping it up to its early standards.

A. N. Young, engineer, who entered the service as a fireman in 1891, who was made an engineer in 1896, spoke in behalf of the experienced men who are pointing the way to the younger men.

Mrs. William Baird, wife of the superintendent of the Plattsmouth shops, spoke of "Veterans' Wives." She made a decided hit with her address, in which she told of the wives who cooperated with the men who made the railroad great.

A quartet of locomotive firemen sang several selections, being recalled and recalled. Music was also furnished by a trio of young ladies, the "Tri B" trio. They too met appreciative response and were recalled.

A. T. Wright, a representative of the conductors' organization, a former employe of the road on the Wyoming district and a Burlington booster who is now adjudicating disputes between his organization and about fifty eastern railroads, made a plea for cooperation on all roads such as exists on the Burlington.

The program closed by singing "Till We Meet Again."

Vice President Bracken, Former General Manager Holdrege, J. H. Waterman of the timber preservation department and General Manager E. Flynn of the lines west were among the out of town officials present. All officials of the road from Lincoln and many from other division points were in attendance.

GRAVEL IS NOT APPROVED

Suggestion to Use Road Surface On City Street Not Favored by City Officials.

Gravel as a paving material for Lincoln streets is not and will not be favored here, according to the opinions of commissioners expressed at Monday's meeting of the city council. Charles W. Taylor, as the owner of a tract of land extending for forty rods along the east side of Forty-eighth street north from Van Dorn, suggested in writing to the council that the street adjacent to his property could be graded and surfaced with four inches of gravel for about one-fifteenth the cost of an asphalt pavement.

In presenting the communication to the council, Commissioner Cowgill commented that the increased travel on city streets make gravel a poor paving material, altho for country roads it may serve well. Upkeep on gravel streets must be continuous and is therefore costly, and requires different equipment than other pavement. The expense of upkeep would have to be unfairly borne by general taxation, he said. The mayor said he agreed with the commissioner's objections to graveling city streets here. Mr. Taylor's letter was filed by the clerk.

FIRE LIMIT EXTENDED

EXPANSION OF COMMERCIAL DISTRICT CAUSE.

Mayor Zehrung Opposed to Cutting Down Twenty-two Trees to Place Walk On the Four Foot Line.

Extension of the fire limits of the city of Lincoln to include that area lying between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-seventh streets, from N street on the south to P. street on the north, is provided in an ordinance passed on third and final reading Monday by the city council.

Another smaller area was also added to the fire district to include the new telephone company warehouse site at Twenty-first and L streets.

Expansion of the commercial district and the resulting necessity of imposing conditions upon the construction of new buildings in the area where fire hazards must be minimized, resulted in the passage of the ordinance introduced by Commissioner John Wright.

Much business of routine nature was transacted by the council at its weekly meeting Monday.

A request by W. J. Assenmacher to excavate for a corridor under the sidewalk and a sidewalk entrance in front of the new Lincoln theater building site on N street, was granted by the council over the objection of Commissioner Cowgill. His motion to require a bond of $1 per cubic yard of earth to be excavated from under any city sidewalk, lost by a vote of four to one, and Mr. Assenmacher was authorized to proceed with excavation work without further formality.

Fire Limit Extended.

Final action on a contract to construct sidewalks on Sumner street, on a line four feet from the lot line, was delayed for a week to allow further investigation by the council. Twenty-two trees which will be destroyed on the four-foot line, according to the mayor, may be saved if the sidewalk is laid at a greater distance from the lot line, and the mayor declared that he would not vote in favor of requiring these trees to be destroyed. Commissioner Cowgill said that for the sake of uniformity throughout the city, he "stood pat" on his recommendation to lay the walk on the four foot line, as provided by city ordinance.

Other members of the council will look over the situation again during the next few days and the matter will then be brought to a vote.

Petitions were received and a resolution was adopted to pave Laura avenue from Thirty-fourth to Thirty-sixth, Thirty-sixth from Randolph to J, and Washington from Twenty-seventh to Twenty-eighth.

A petition signed by Don Elliott and twelve other property owners, for the establishment of a water district on Center street from Thirty-second to Thirty-third, was referred to Commissioner Schroeder.

Plans and specifications for the following projects were accepted:

Paving of alley between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth, from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth, engineer's estimate $2,800.

Paving of Washington street from Twenty-seventh to Twenty-eighth, engineer's estimate $5,600.

Paving C street from Twenty-third to Twenty-fourth, engineer's estimate $5,400.

Paving on Twelfth.

Paving Twelfth street from Plum to South, engineer's estimate $1,900. Asphaltic street concrete will be used, as the street was declared by the council to be a main thoroughfare into the city, and for that reason was ordered paved despite local protest.

Twenty-three petitions, signed by owners of property abutting directly on the alley between D and F streets, from Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh, asking to have that alley paved, were reported to the council and delivered to the city attorney for examination.

A resolution was adopted directing the city clerk to file for record in the office of the register of deeds, a certified report in the matter of the condemnation of a strip of land along the Rock Island right-of-way, between Washington and Everett streets, south of the A street power and water station.

At the instance of Commissioner Schroeder, Charles Wilke, assistant city attorney, examined records at the county court house establishing the ownership of the city to the land in question. The tract extends for about three hundred feet along the Rock Island track. The ground occupied by the smoke-stack at the A street station is part of the property, and was considered to belong to the Rock Island, until Commissioner Schroeder recently discovered that the city had condemned and acquired the land seven years ago, but he could not find any record of the transaction at the city hall. The resolution passed Monday was for the purpose of putting recording ownership of the land by the city.

The following ordinances were placed on first reading Monday:

To vacate the alley between Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh streets, from D to F street.

To create a sewer district on Twenty-third street, from W street to the Missouri Pacific tracks.

To create an alley paving district for the alley between E and F streets, from Tenth to Eleventh.

To create a paving district to include Thirty-seventh street from D to F, Thirty-eighth street from F to Maple Grove; D street from Thirty-sixth to Thirty-seventh, F street from Thirty-sixth to Maple Grove.

To grade Twelfth street from South to Plum.

To create water district 77 consisting of Woodsdale boulevard from Van Dorn to Twenty-fourth.

Two ordinances placed on third reading provide for the creation of a grading district Mohawk from Thirty-second to Thirty-third and of a water district to include I street from Fortieth to Forty-fourth, and Forty-fourth from F to G.

Commissioner John Wright submitted his report on bids for new hose and a truck equipped with a pump for the fire department. The American-LaFrance company received the contract for the sale of the fire truck, with a pump of 750 gallons capacity, for the sum of $12,500. Contracts for the purchase of new hose were awarded to the Rudge & Guenzel company for 1,000 feet of 2 1-2 inch hose at $1.25 per foot, and 500 feet of 3-inch hose at $1.45 per foot, and to the American-LaFrance company for 1,500 feet of 3-inch hose at $1.60 per foot.

A petition filed by Lizzie Fisher, 1144 Washington street, asking that the city construct a retaining wall along the Twelfth street frontage of her property, was referred to Commissioner Cowgill. In her petition Mrs. Fisher states that she would accept the wall as recompense for alleged damages to her property, which she claims resulted from the grading of Twelfth street recently. She also said that she understood the city had constructed a retaining wall for a property owner across the street from her premises, and that she believed it to be her right to claim equal consideration. "Three stones and a cap" is the wall as specified by Mrs. Fisher.

THIS BRIGHT BABY GIRL

Brought Joy to Home. Mrs. Price's Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scootac, Pa. — "I never felt like working, and when I would try to do any work standing on my feet, I would just drag around all day long. At times I would have terrible pains and would be in bed three or four days. I was in this condition about a year when I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers. I had heard different women say it was good for women's troubles, and my aunt thought it would help me as it had helped her. So I took the Vegetable Compound and it brought things right, and I was in good shape before I became a mother again. I believe it helps at birth, too, as with both my other babies I suffered a great deal more than with this one. I thank you a thousand times for the good your medicine has done me." — Mrs. ROBERT PRICE, Scootac, via Lockhaven, Pa.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use.

be to impose no penalty other than to hold over bankers the danger of action of the state if they borrowed more than the law allowed them. This is strengthened by the fact that in 1923 the legislature added a penalty.

The court says that a contract by a state bank to borrow more than its limit is voidable but not void and where it has been fully performed by the lending of money to such state bank and the execution and delivery of the notes therefor, the borrowing bank can not refuse payment in the absence of a statute which so provides. The court based this on the ground that forfeitures are odious

WARNING TO ALL SCHOOLS

TEACHERS MUST HAVE LEGAL CERTIFICATES.

State Superintendent Requires This Even Tho Board Does Not and Teachers Work For Nothing.

State Superintendent Matzen is insistent that county superintendents check the certification of their teachers and notify all board of districts in which teachers are employed who are not properly certified of the ways they and their district may be penalized for their violation of the law. Now that county superintendents have had time to do this the state superintendent asks county superintendents to report to him under oath on or before October 18 the information desired.

He has enclosed a blank for such information. The blank contains a statement that the county superintendent has carefully checked the certification of every person employed as a teacher in the public, private, denominational and parochial schools, rural, town and city, of the county and finds that all are legally qualified "except the following persons who are teaching without proper Nebraska certificates." The blank contains spaces for the name of such teacher, name of director and address of director.

The state superintendent announces in his letter on this subject that neither he nor the county superintendent has authority to permit a person who is not legally qualified to teach in any school in his or her county even though it is agreeable to the board members and patrons and the teacher is willing to teach without salary."

State funds in support of schools can be withheld from district violating the provisions of the certification law.

CAPITOL SPECIFICATIONS

Commissioner Planning to Have Specifications For Section Two Ready For Bidders.

State Purchasing Agent J. R. Farris opened bids Tuesday on printed specifications for the second section of the capitol. F. C. Marshall was lowest with a bid of $1.47 a page. Two printers bid $3 a page and a fourth bid $1.85. The award cannot be made to the printer until the matter is submitted to the Goodhue estate in New York, architect for the capitol commission. Printed specifications for the first section of the capitol were printed in New York by a firm that sent in a bill for $7,500. The specifications for the second section have been reduced in amount of printed matter. Fifty copies of the specifications are to be printed.

The capitol commission has set no date for the submission of bids on the second section of the capitol, but plans to have specifications printed so that bids can be asked for either before or after the next legislature meets as seems best.

The specifications show that the second section embrace the east entrance with the adjoining house of representatives, the memorial flyer leading from the north entrance to the central rotunda, the library wing and the central rotunda, the library wing and the central rotunda up to and including the dome over the same and a temporary roof over it. The senate wing and the west entrance are a part of section three which includes the tower over the central rotunda.

College View.

At a special meeting of the city council sitting as a board of equalization for the purpose of hearing protests and making adjustments in the assessments of the paving tax in district No. 9, a number of protests of alleged unequal assessments were ironed out. Protests of William Cherry and William Freer were overruled on advice of George A. Adams, city attorney. everal other complaints of unequal assessments were withdrawn when the council presented facts and figures to justify the original assessment

District No. 9 consists of eleven blocks of paving extending from Twenty-fifth and L streets to the Burlington railroad tracks at Twenty-fifth street This is a federal aid project costing $31,440. The federal aid department paid $15,102 as the government's share of the project, the remainder to be assessed against the abutting property owners.

The council has purchased a half acre plot of ground at Twenty-fifst and L streets to be used for a site for the new pumping station. The plot was purchased from William Sutter. The purhcase price was not made known. A test well has already been drilled in the new site. The well is 102 feet deep and has forty feet of water. The old city wells are on much higher ground and closer to the Lincoln pumping station at Van Dorn street, and have only ten feet of water. The contract for new wells has been let and drilling operations will start on October 15

EDITOR SPEAKS TO ROTARY

Condemns "Penny Wisdom" and Elicits Aid Against Avalanche of Press Consolidation.

The provincialism of the eastern editors and the rapid movement toward control of the press by a few rich men, was deplored by Dr. Oswald Villard, editor of the Nation, in an address before the Rotarians at the Lincoln hotel Tuesday noon.

Dr. Villard condemned hte business men for their approval of newspaper consolidation on the ground that it saved advertising bills.

The speaker pointed to England as an example of a country whose greatest source of information are controlled by a small group of moneyed men, and charged the Rotarians and business men with the responsibility of supporting the independent partisan papers against the avalanche of consolidation that is descending upon the press of the nation

Dr. Villard was presented to the club by Prof. M. M. Fogg, director of the school of journalism at the University of Nebraska.

Before the program was opened J. Lawson Robb, who is celebrating his tenth anniversary in business in Lincoln, presented a $30 radio "a" battery to the club to be drawn for by those present. Ray Pepperburg held the lucky number and walked off with the prize. The program at the luncheon was opened with "There Is No Place Like Nebraska," sung by the assemblage.

TO OPEN WATER RESERVOIR BIDS

Receive Proposals Wednesday to Build Concrete Storage Basin For 5,000,000 Gallons of Water.

Bids on a contract to construct the new five-million gallon water reservoir for the city will be opened at 10 a. m Wednesday morning by Commissioner Schroeder, City Clerk Berg and City Engineer Erickson. The cost of the project is estimated to be about $75,000 The site for the new reservoir adjoins the reservoirs now in use near the A street power and water station.

Copies of the plans and specifications have been secured by numerous contractors planning to bid on the project, and competition is expected to be lively.

Although no one acquainted with Commissioner Schroeder's practical disposition would accuse him of being a dreamer, the water commissioner has had a somnolent "revelation" concerning the new reservoir, he confesses.

"I dreamed that a contractor offered us a bid of $60,000 to build the new reservoir," said Mr. Schroeder.

"I asked him if he knew how to build it, and he said he had built lots of them and was going to build a whole lot more."

If there is any art to make dreams come true, the commissioner would like the contractor of his dream to put in a personal appearance Wednesday morning and offer the $60,000 bid on the reservoir, which would be $15,000 below estimate.

Addition of five millon gallons storage capacity at the A street station will increase the total water storage facilities of the city to thirteen million gallons, and will assure an adequate reserve supply when dry weather taxes the pumping capacity of the city stations next summer.

HELD WHEN THEFT OF CAR REPORTED

Iowa Salesman Jailed and Fined Following Auto Crash and Voluntary Appearance at Cop Station.

"My car has been stolen," exclaimed G. F. Christensen, Iowa salesman, when he rushed into the police station at 1 a. m. Tuesday. The description he gave of the missing car tallied with the badly wrecked Ford sedan towed in from Thirty-seventh and O streets earlier in the night and he was put in a cell to explain his predicament to the police judge in the morning. At Tuesday's session of court he was fined $100 and costs on a charge of reckless driving.

Christensen was alleged to have been responsible for three auto crashes Monday night, only one of which was reported to the police at the time. W. A. May, 1812 A, parked his car at Eleventh and Q and returning to it about 10:30 p. m. found a wheel broken and two fenders jammed That was about twenty minutes before Christensen's car was found on East O.

He admitted having smashed his car at Thirty-seventh and O but denied implication in the other accidents. Following the crash about 10:50 p. m., he went to town to get aid from a garage and upon his return found his car gone, he stated It was then he went to the cop station to report the supposed theft and found his car there ahead of him.

LATEST MARKETS

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Grain futures moved upward at opening on the board of trade today.

Wheat was the market leader. A wave of buying sent values soaring to a fraction below yesterday's record. Unfavorable crop advices from Argentine and continental Europe induced buying.

Rains in the central growing area and strength in wheat sent corn up. The crop now needs dry weather to mature. The old corn movement continues heavy.

Oats was inclined to lag advancing only a fraction.

Provisions had a steady opening.

Grain Market Opinions.

Lamson Bros. & Co.: We suggest caution on buying on the bulges.

Bartlett-Frazier & Co.: We expect declines to be only temporary and to be followed by higher prices.

Stein Alstrin: A further reaction seems possible and would afford investment opportunity.

Clement Curtis & Co.: Bulges bring out increased selling.

Thomson McKinnon: More than usual caution should be used on the buying side.

Chiman Grain Co.: A good reaction is due.

Herald Examiner: News affecting the trend of wheat prices remains bullish, altho there are inferences that the European demand may be about satisfied for the time being.—Lamson.

Chicago Tribune: Wheat is expected to recede a little further. Foreigners are expected to buy on all good breaks. Unfavorable weather conditions in western Canada are expected to delay threshing and make shorts in October nervous. It was said that one of the largest local professionals who had been active on the long side of wheat, rye and oats was a heavy seller for profits yesterday both in Chicago and Winnipeg. With an improvement in the relationship between American and Liverpool wheat prices, those studying the foreign situation regard the market here as in good shape to rally whenever liberal buying orders appear. An effort by a local long to take profits on corn disclosed a weak technical position. Conflicting reports were received from the interior regarding the probable outcome of the new crop. Immense profit taking developed in oats. The United States is the only large producer that has a big oats crop. Export sales were estimated 1,000,000 to 5,000,000 bushels wheat and 300,000 bushels rye.

Journal of Commerce: It was reported that Scandinavian countries have orders in New York seeking offers corn for export. The disappearing supplies in the Argentine the cause.

The domestic promise of little more than 2,000,000,000 is rardly equal to home consumption. There appears to be many factors to inspire confidence in a quick recovery, which carries prices to new high level. Contracts made at Winnipeg specify that delivery must be of Canadian grown wheat. United States wheat might be shipped into that county in case Winnipeg prices advanced far enough to cover duty and differences in this country but it would not be accepted on contracts made at Winnipeg. Buying by Japan was not considered previously in figuring world requirements. This added to evidence that the United States must be depended upon to a larger extent than at any previous time, except during the war, for supplies.—Lamson.

Wall Street Journal Review.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Reports from Chicago of a heavy increase in steel buying was the principal item relating to the general business situation in the over night news. Other developments mostly concerned specific issues and the character of the market as a whole was unchanged in the early dealings.

In the general list prices were steady, showing insignificant changes. Trading continued on Monday's restricted scale which was the lightest since the dull days of September.

Opening prices: U. S. Steel 107⅞ up ¼; Studebaker Corporation 39¾; American Woolen 57⅛ off ⅜; St. Paul 11½; American Can 130; Reading 68½ up ⅛; Norfolk & Western 123¼ up ¾; Sinclair Oil 15⅝ up ¼; Rock Island 32⅜ off ⅛; Union Pacific 137; Southern Railway 66 off ⅜; Baldwin Locomotive 120⅜ off ¼; Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe 106⅜ off ⅛; Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul pfd. 109⅝ up ⅛.

Stock Market Opinions.

Ware & Co.: The market continues a trading affair.

Lamson Bros. & Co.: Operating for small profits is possibly the best plan.

Post & Flagg: There is room for substantial improvement in prices if the present administration is returned to office.

Clark Childs & Co.: The market will probably suffer from baseball and politics for a few days.

Harris Winthrop & Co.: On further recessions believe stocks will prove a favorable purchase.

Thomson McKinnon: We believe purchases advisable on the weak spots.

Lamson: Price averages: 20 industrials 102.58, off .27; 20 rails 88.43, off .47; 40 bonds 90.80, up .04.

New York American: Those in authority profess to know nothing about any unfavorable development in St Paul operations. In fact, record traffic reports prove a betterment recently in the company's position.—Lamson.

Discussing "Old Bill" White and Other Kansas Political Notables

Ex-Governor Henry Allen, of Kansas, tells me that William Allen White is likely to be elected governor of Kansas, running as he does, independently as the anti-klan candidate, says Clinton W. Gilbert in the Philadelphia Public Ledger. But I suspect Henry Allen of trying to pay his debt to Bill White for all the advertising of him that the Emporia editor has done. I am as skeptical when some one tells me this as I am when some LaFollette enthusiast stops me and tells me excitedly that "We are going to elect Bob!" The greatest independent candidate we ever had in this country, Theodore Roosevelt, in 1912 received only 24 per cent of the total vote cast.

Well, anyway, says Henry Allen, White is having the time of his life running for governor. He has the support of his own newspaper, of Henry Allen's newspaper, and of Victor Murdock's newspaper, these three being the three musketeers, the Porthos, Athos and Aramis, of Kansas politics and journalism. Allen having been governor, is waiting around Wichita patiently for the call which will bring him to Washington, with, however, two healthy and politically long-lived senators in front of him. Murdock having strayed from the straight and narrow path of republicanism into the fold of Wilson, is now back in Kansas beginning at the foot of the ladder to regain the only party standing that is worth while in Kansas. So White is the only one of the three musketeers who is free for a political adventure. But this exploit of his is perfectly regular republicanism. To start it off right, he announces his fervent devotion to the cause of Calvin Coolidge. Not even Senator Capper himself can testify to the nation's deep need of Mr. Coolidge more passionately than White. A shrewd man is Bill White. One may get gay about anything else in Kansas, but not about the national republican ticket.

For the rest of his equipment Mr. White has his picturesque vocabularly, his talent for publicity, which is equally remarkable, and his moral earnestness against the klan, which is very real. If you may believe the newspapers out there, Kansas really gets fun out of politics and Mr. White will give them fun. And, truly, Kansas owes so much to him that it ought to give him the job of being governor if he wants it, tho I don't believe he really does. He has done more to make Kansas famous than beer ever did to make Milwaukee famous or than a whole school of novelists has done to make Indiana famous. He has been for nearly thirty years the volunteer publicity man for the sunflower state. In some statuary hall of the future Kansas ought to be represented by a little, round, fat statue of Bill White. And so as to give him a proper title in statuary hall, Kansas might begin by electing him Governor.

COTNER OBSERVES ITS FOUNDERS DAY

Annual Program Given Tuesday Morning With Address by Dr. George Miller of Omaha —Evening Reception.

The annual Founders' day observance of Cotner college took place Tuesday mrning beginning at 10 o'clock. Dr. George A. Miller, minister of the First Christian church of Omaha, was the speaker, his subject being "What I Owe." Dr. James A. Beattie, professor of mathematics from 1889 to 1896 and head of the department of education from 1902 to 1912, pronounced the invocation. Since the establishment of the college the day has been observed on the first Tuesday in October.

Dr. William Prince Aylsmorth, acting chancellor 1889 to 1890, chancellor 1896 to 1910 and chancellor emeritus since 1910, and who has been connected with the school since its beginning, each year gives some personal reminiscences of its history. He dwelt on four periods in its existence. In the period of inauguration high hopes of being a unviersity were held and medical and dentatl departments were opened. The latter was the predecessor of the college of dentistry of the University of Nebraska. From 1896 to 1900 was a time of gloom and title to the property was lost. From 1900 to 1910 higher sttandards were being developed and collegiate work strengthened. Since then a period of confidence and development has taken place.

Doctor Miller said in part:

"There are two ways of entering life. One of them is with the thought that the world owes everything to me. There are a great many people who think the community owes everything to them. We have it in the church—only a place to receive, always getting something, never of what they ought to give. Some folks consider a church as a dog kennel—a place to sleep and growl. A good many people think of the school in that way. Many students start to school in that way; just a place to receive and keep, never thinking they might have something to give.

"Another way is that I owe to the world something—democratic idea. That is the principle underlying our government, state, and nation. Capable of getting, bestowing, there I owe. I can do more, therefore I owe more. Purpose of this institution the purpose of our being here is this. When you leave you will owe more to your nation, your fellowmen, your God than before you came. You are debtor. It was Paul who said, "I am debtor." After he had suffered, he thought of life always, "I owe." That is true in the world today. If you have something the world needs, you owe it.

Preceding the address the following musical program was given:

Angel's Serenade, Braza, flute solo—Miss Naomi Moss.

Homenard Bound—K. Glen.

Fairies' Love Song, Spross—Miss Lenore C. Burkett.

Melody by Moskowski.

Scherzo by Mendelssohn—Miss Emily Clarke.

The annual faculty reception to students will take place Tuesday evening.

CHAMBER AFTER MEMBERS

Thirty-two Team Captains Given Instructions Tuesday For Two Days Campaign.

Some thirty Omaha and Council Bluffs members of the Order of Maccabees were guests of the chamber of commerce for luncheon Tuesday and were pledged the support of the local lodge in their caravan enterprise. Maccabees from all the western states will gather in Denver next spring on their way to the quadriennial conclave at Washington, and will start east either on the Santa Fe trail thru Kansas or the Lincoln highway and D. L. D. thru Nebraska. The latter route would take them to Omaha, and would mean a day's visit of about a thousand cars and approximately five thousand people.

The visitors were met about ten miles out of Lincoln and escorted in by four auto loads of local members. The Lincoln committee that met with them for luncheon included H. W. Strubbe, district deputy; Verne Hedge, R. S. Mockett and L. C. Chapin. Des Moines sent Dick Saylor and James W. Darrow and from Council Bluffs came F. E. Jones and Howard Boylar. The official Omaha committee comprised T. E. Gerrin, B. B. Nuckolls and W. J. Higley. In the crowd were R. P. Kuntz, supervising deputy from Detroit, S. S. Burgin, holding the same office for Iowa and Nebraska, and A. W. Frye of Detroit, supreme commander of the order.

The party expected to start back for Omaha at 2:00 and will spend Wednesday there.

MYSTERIOUS SHOT AT CAFE.

Police are at loss to account for a mysterious shot which was fired thru a plate glass window at the Manhattan lunch room, 128 South Tenth, about 2 a. m. Tuesday. The glass was badly cracked by the bullet, and a hole about six inches in diameter was left. Lieutenant Rymer and Officer Jones who investigated said that the shot was fired from the inside while the manager of the cafe is certain, he stated, that it was fired from the outside. No one was in the room at the time, a traction company employe having left a few minutes before and the man in charge of the place being in the back of the room washing dishes. The bullet was found on the inside of the lunch room a few feet from the window.

Men and Things

When a man, by the exercise of prudence, hard work and self denial, has accumulated some property he grows conservative by nature. Before he gets any he feels free to advocate all sorts of government experiments with the property of others. It is not only because he is young and inexperience with the economic side of life but because he has the cruelty of youth which cares little for what happens to others when the working of their will is in question. As he grows older he realizes the absolute necessity of insuring himself against dependency, and while the majority find this out too late to make it possible to get together much of an estate it is the dominant feeling. This is what makes it easy to believe that the Bohemians and Germans who form so considerable part of the electorate and who are types of the thrifty and industrious that Europe sends us are not following such strange gods as LaFollette sets up.

In a political campaign the special habitation of truth is a difficult spot to find. We all get warped out of the normal in discussing politics, some a great deal more than others, and our inherited prejudices against the other party make it difficult to pick our way to where truth is located. There is nothing sinister in the program of either the republican or democratic party. Their battles have been largely one between policies of government that have not been so widely divergent when it came to put them into practical effect and clashes of personal ambitions. Both have been progressive and have responded well to sane demands in the public interest.

A democrat is usually a bit more emotional than a republican, and this makes him more of a radical. He is inclined to be moved by oratory where a republican demands to know what is the next order of business. The politicians talk a lot of about reactionaries, but that is sales talk. A reactionary is a man who is not willing to go all the way politically with you just as a bolshevik in America is a man who disagrees with you on economics. Any man of wide experience in politics will tell you that while conservatives are numerous, there are few reactionaries, who, in reality, are men who think the ways that they wish to return to them.

Argue the matter as much as we may, there is something sinister about the LaFollette movement. The senator is able and sincere and really wishes to assist his country to a sounder economic status. It is not that there is any question of his integrity of purpose. What offends so many is that the means he proposes to use are of a character that has drawn to his standard practically every enemy of order and government and every revolutionary in the land. When he proposes to give the legislative branch of the government authority over the judicial branch, even tho it be to make more speedily effective the popular will as expressed by their congressional representatives, he is uprooting the fundamentals of our form of government, which rests upon a balanced power as between the judiciary, the executive and the legislature, necessary as our fathers thought and as we have believed, to the security of the citizen in his freedom and property.

A good police reporter ought to be able to sell stuff at high prices to the magazines that seem so hard up for fiction. We read a story in one that is reputed to pay the top rate for narratives that was nothing more than a modestly adorned police report of a murder and an accident. The chief requisite now adays seems to be a certain technique or way of handling the story. The plot need not amount to anything much. Take any murder case in your neighborhood and inject a bit of mystery into it and handle it a bit different from somebody else and you ought to sell the product readily.

Down at Luna park we crawled up the "Shoot the Chutes" at the rate of 2 feet per second and shot down at the rate of 20 feet per second, so it took us just 1 minute to make the round trip. What was the length of that chute?

O' course drivin' from th' back seat is mighty exasperatin', but it would be fun t' know jest how many people are walkin' around alive an' well t'day jest because mother butted in. We kin make a woman twice as mad by callin' her too fat as we kin by callin' her two-faced.
